“If we work upon marble, it will perish; if on brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, and imbue them with principles with the just fear of God and love of our fellowmen, we engrave on those tablets something that will brighten to all eternity”—

Daniel Webster

"... A LIBERAL EDUCATION ..."

CURRICULUM

If you want knowledge you must toil for it, and if good, you must toil for it, and if you want pleasure you must toil for it. Toil is law. Pleasure comes through toil and not by self-indulgence and indolence.
When one gets to love his work,
his life is a happy one.

ENGLISH MAINTAINS HIS SOVEREIGNTY

Although English remained much the same, its representation varied as many teachers questioned the traditional methods of teaching. Structural and functional relationships among languages were shown inductively by means of linguistics. In literature, though new novels, such as John Knowles' A Separate Peace, were read, many teachers at the advice of Xavier's Father Savage concentrated more on composition. The Edgecliff Academy further enlightened students by presenting classroom classics. Techniques both old and new vied for the best results.

In transactions big or small English was a requisite for good business.

Homework emphasized that obtaining skill in English, as in any language, required assiduous practice.

Long Live the King!

Of English, King in many lands, with tongue of many turns,
From Chaucer's era till our own, each
of his subjects learns.
He's Shakespeare, Hardy, Conrad, Burns;
they're ministers to him all,
Who're backed by legions, armed so well
and ready at his call,
Of teachers skilled in verse and prose,
indeed his every trait,
With books of stiff or paper backs, to help communicate.

Poem by Bob White

Sophomore Mark Kokefer played Robin Hood, the merry outlaw.

Shakespeare found English a seedling and left it an oak.

Latin students enacted a parody on Julius Caesar's death.

Miss Kemme reviewed phonetics as pupils correct their homework.

To lose an American accent and gain a Spanish one, students listened to and imitated native speakers.

WHAT IS NEW IN FOREIGN LANGUAGE?

Accent on Communication

New in the foreign language department was the use of Audio-Lingual teaching. This method familiarized the pupils with the sound of the language before the text books were introduced in the second six-weeks' period. Pupils learn sentence patterns more readily if sound is the only sense involved in the learning procedure.

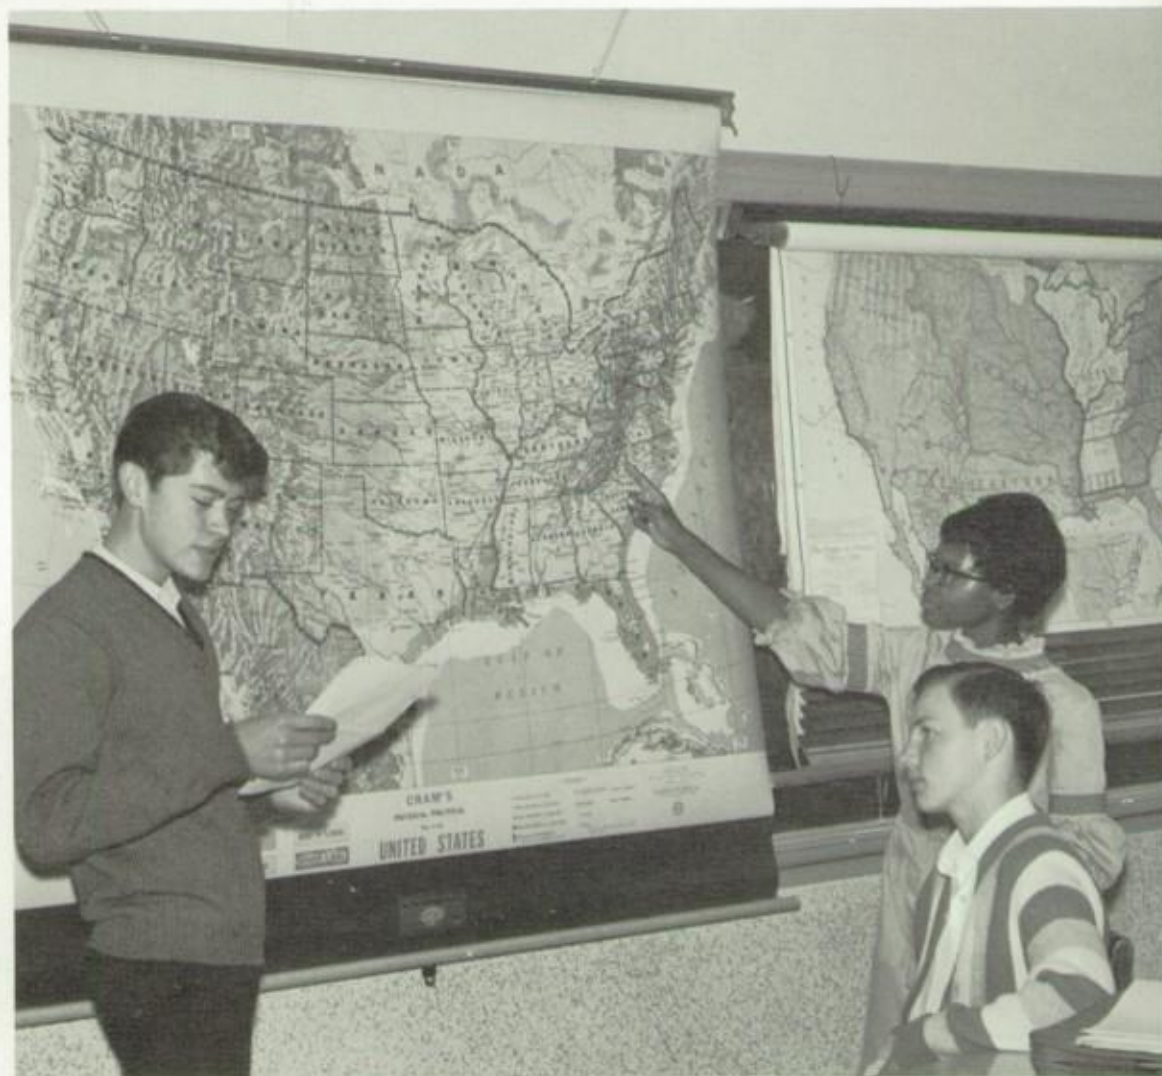

WERE THESE THE QUESTIONS HEARD 'ROUND THE WORLD?

How? What? Why?

Why can't we have a policy of neutrality in Viet Nam? What can be done with an historical fact or date? Why are those who refuse to recognize the past condemned to the future? How can students relate the historical facts they have learned to their own experiences? What could have been more stimulating in the History Department than trying to find the answers to these provoking questions?

History points the way to the future.

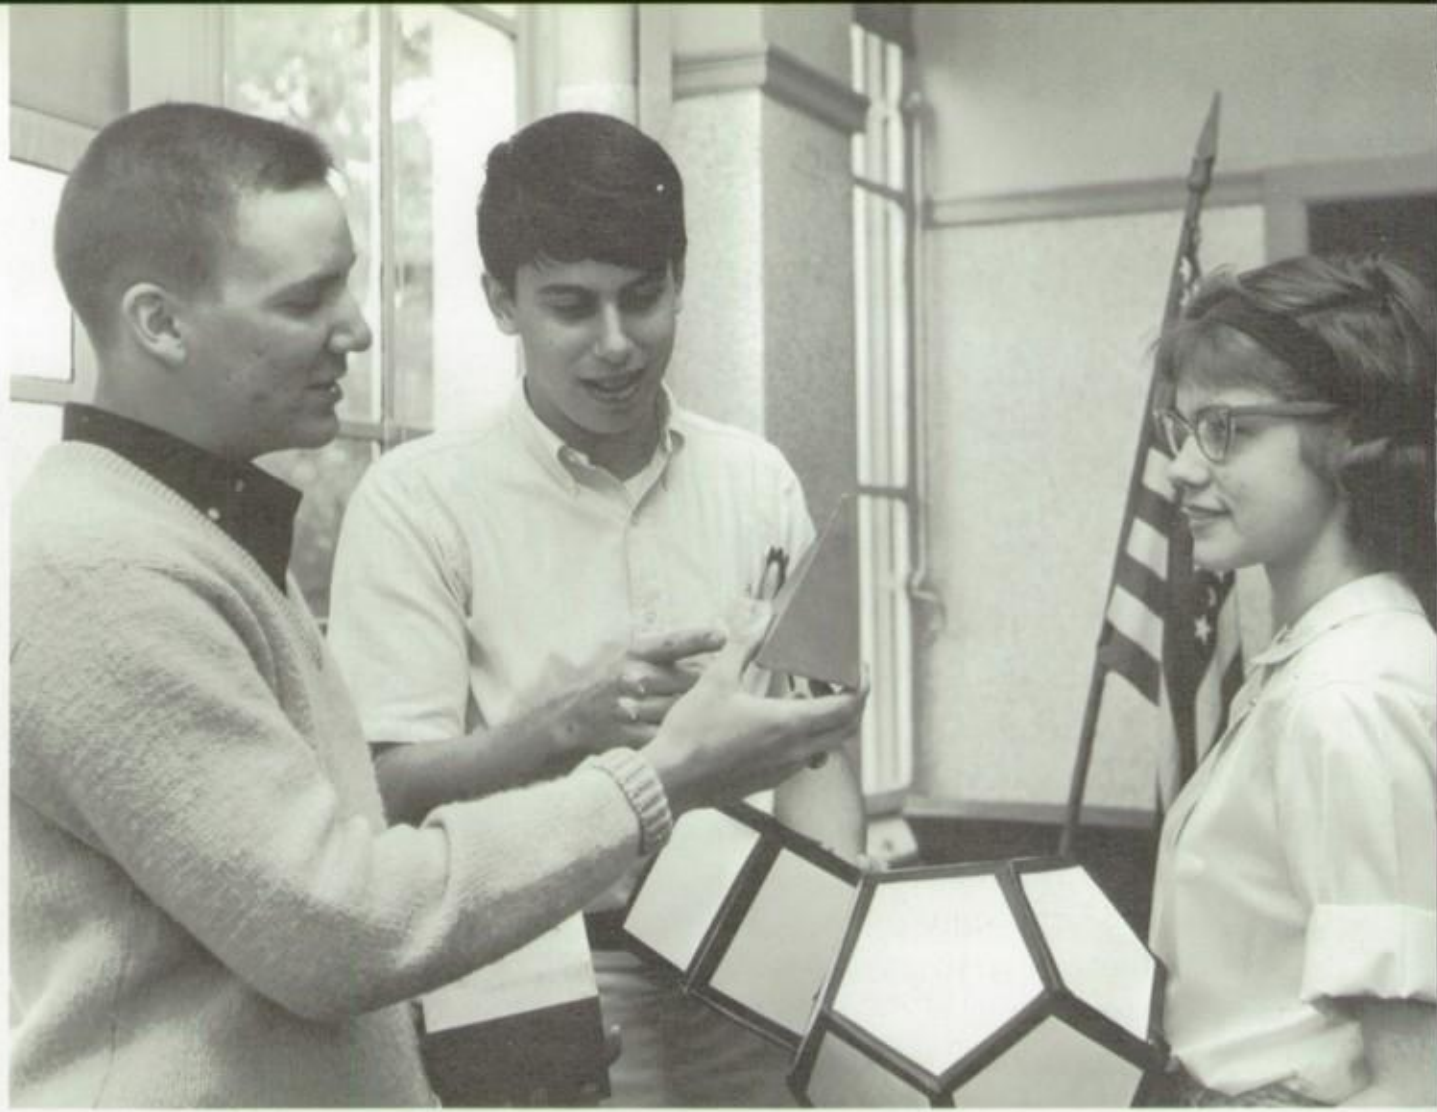

By seeing economic and social problems of a country, pupils are able to better understand them.

Rick Stuart and Kris Parker spanned the globe in search of Montreal.

Visualizing component parts helps students to comprehend math.

Geometry is stimulating for some; exasperating for others.

New Horizons

Whether it be geometry or algebra, new horizons have been opened for the avid math student. Math V has been added to Withrow's academic curriculum. Basic to advanced placement classes have an opportunity to participate in this new program. All students may benefit from this new horizon in mathematics.

ABILITY + PRACTICE =
ACCOMPLISHED MATHEMATICIAN

Fields of Discovery

Dissecting a frog in zoology, proving Snell's law in physics, or studying an oak leaf's structure in botany proved to be some of the less disturbing observations in the Science Department. Chemistry once more brought familiar sounds of complaining teachers and students as the well-known odor of burning sulfur again lingered in Withrow's halls. Young chemists had repeatedly observed the reactions of sulfur and iron filings. Even with these complications, through close observations and critical examinations many inquiring minds were challenged.

Crestwell Dawkin and Mike Blanden observed specimens as the experiment neared its end.

SCIENCE HOLDS THE KEY TO OUR WORLD

Young scientists give their thorough explanations of wonders in the numerous fields of science.

Construction of the form, shredding of the paper mache, and mixing of the wheat paste produced the final gargoyle.

Study in three-dimensional design and construction.

PUPILS SEEK MUSIC'S SONG AND ART'S REALITY

Fingers, patches, and paint produced imaginative mosaic paperwork.

Music Makers

To give students a non-verbal form of expression was the main purpose of the art and music courses. Wax batik on cloth was a new process studied in art. The art staff was headed by Mr. Mueller, assisted by Miss Hawes and Mr. Wilson. The performing groups of music courses were choir, band, orchestra, and Madrigal Singers. Functioning in school programs were Mixed Chorus and Girls' Glee Club. Mr. Martin headed the music staff with Mr. O'Rourke, Mr. Lackey and Mr. Curtis.

Co-ordination of the fingers skimming the scale and of the eyes reading the notes prepared band students for future musical study.

BUSINESS CAREERS BEGIN TODAY

Competence in Action

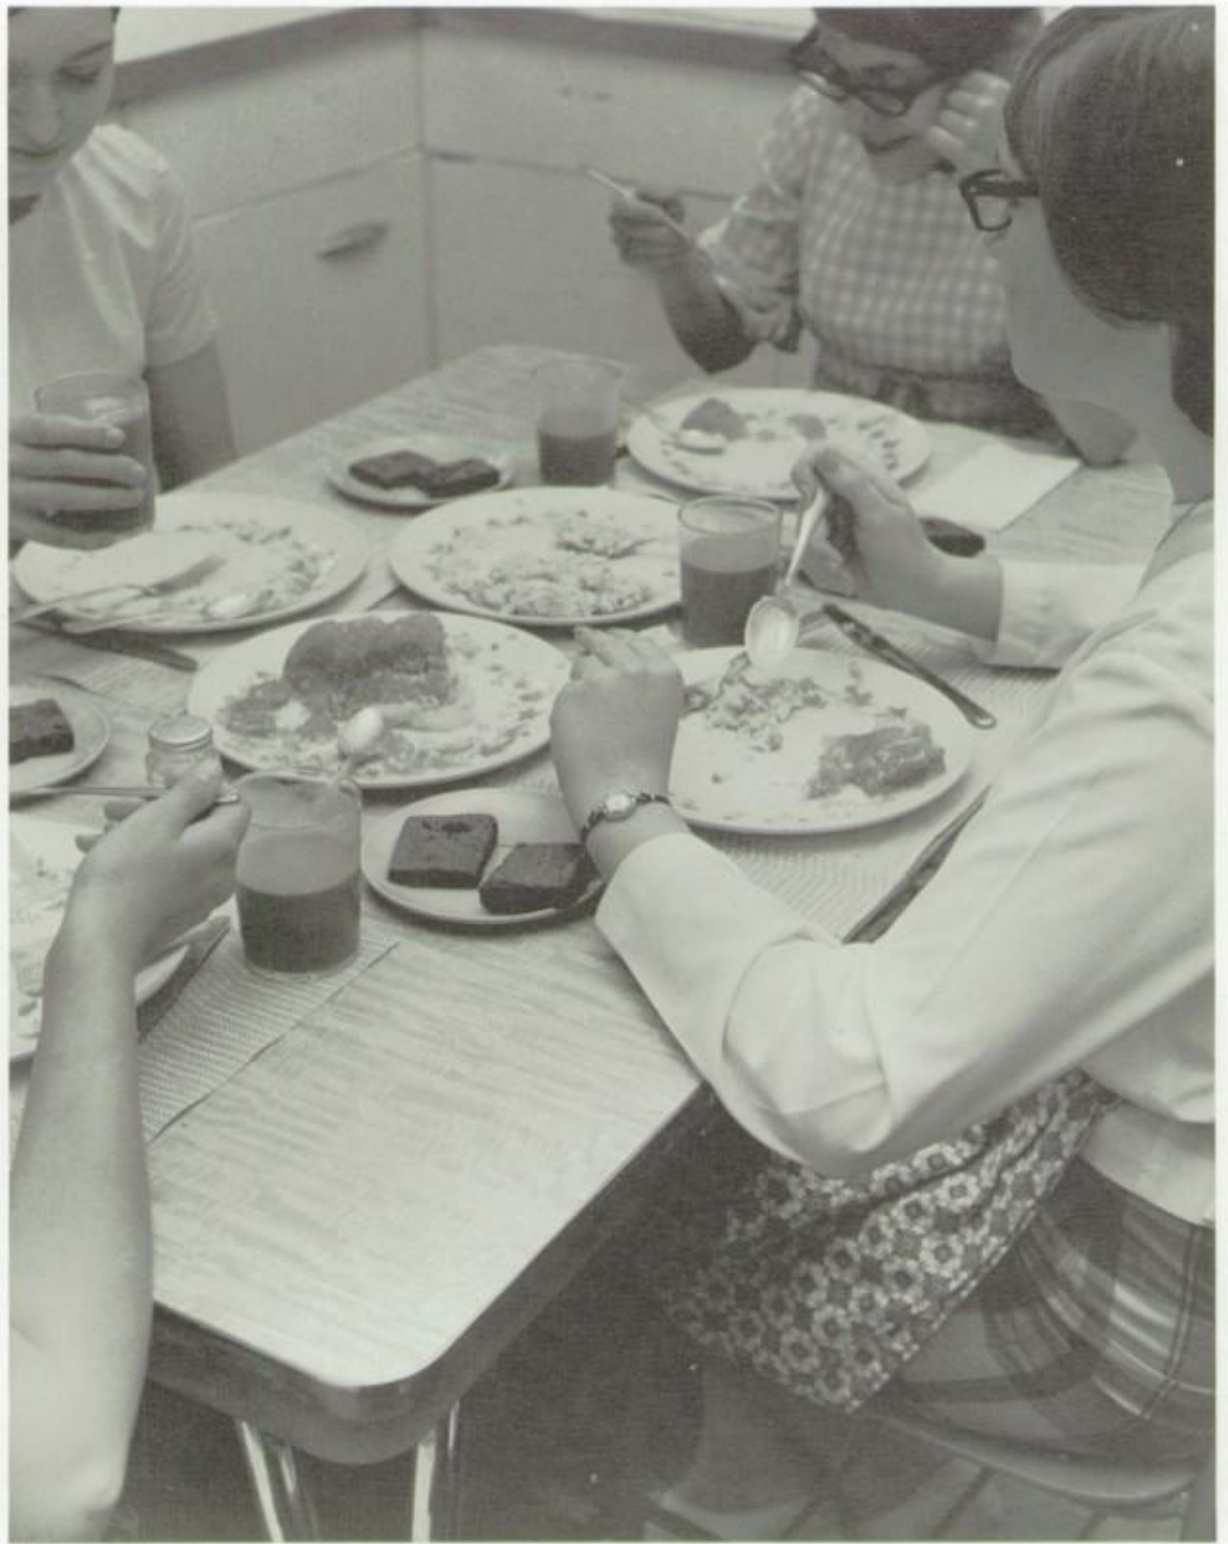

Who said it was none of our business? Through Withrow's Business Department, students not only became accustomed to note-taking, but also gained experience in answering ads in newspapers and typing invoices, letters, and wills; they have even toyed with cash registers and stocks. Truly this department coincided with our tower's inscription: "If you want knowledge, you must toil for it."

These printers published bulletins as they put the offset press into action.

In this Office Practice course students filed cards for the Southwestern Publishing Company.

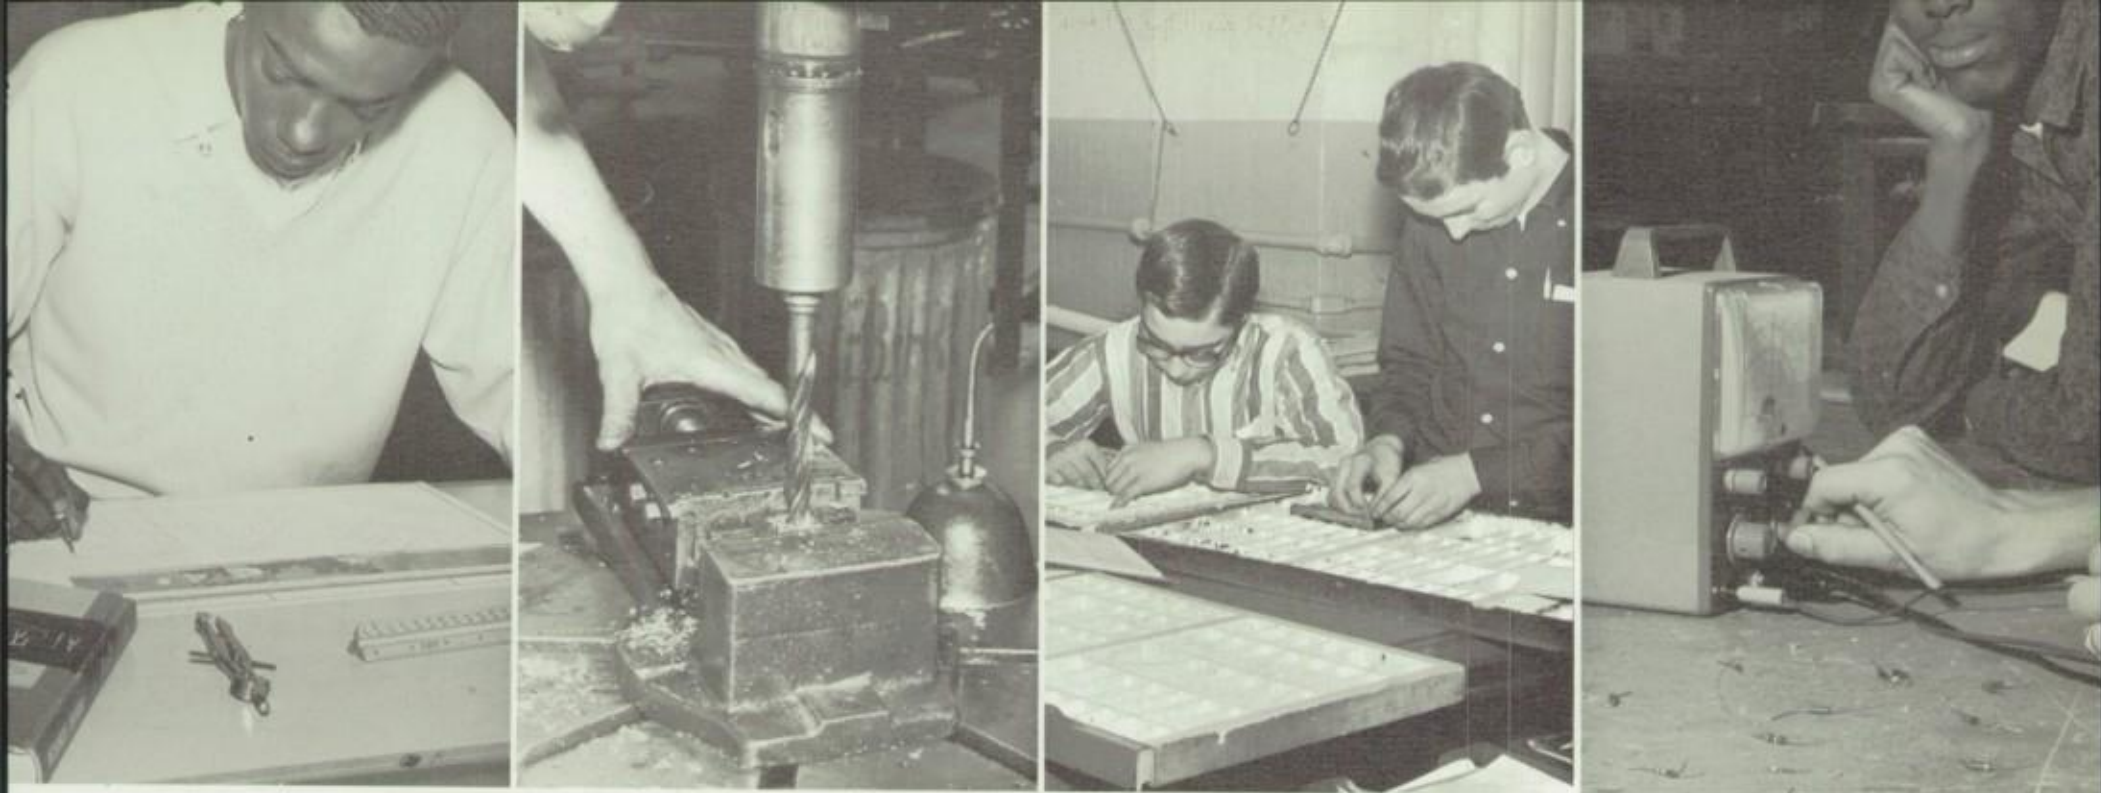

SKILLFUL HANDS MOLD THE FUTURE

Pin, cut, sew—pin, cut, sew. It's a slow process but at last the form of a skirt emerged.

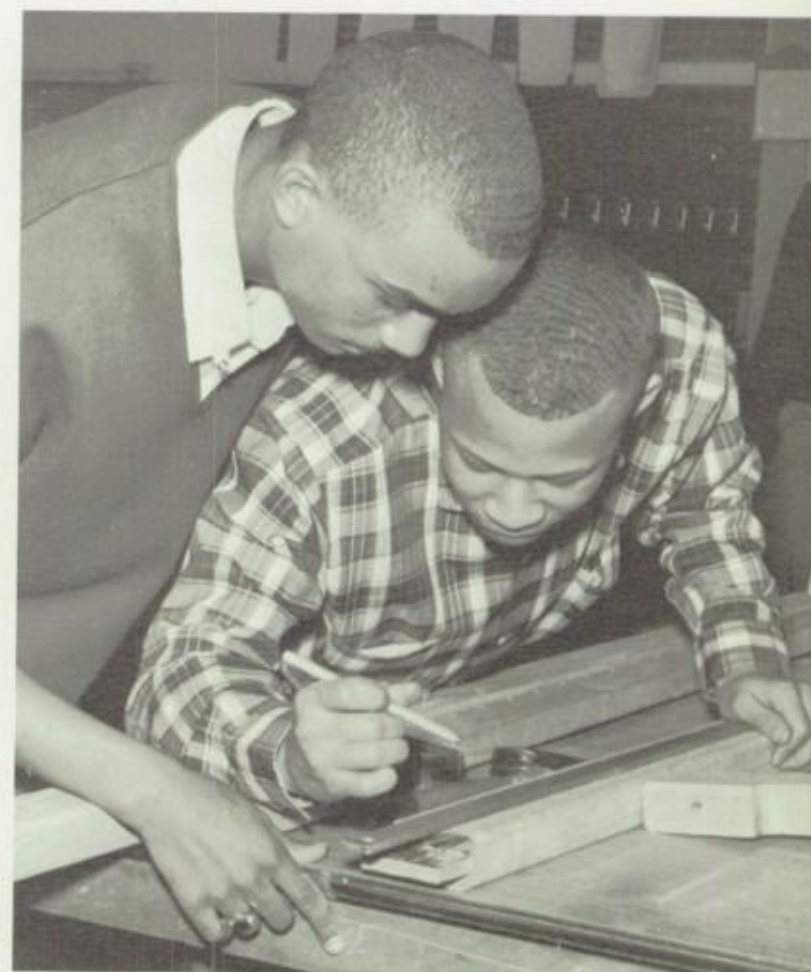

Variety is the key word in shop rooms; everything from electricity to mechanical drawing was offered.

Sparks flew during an attempt to spot weld.

Everything from "A" to "Z"

Projects in Home Economics and Industrial Arts dealt with both simple and complex skills. In Home Ec., girls made everything from skirts to wedding gowns. A new unit was introduced—"Survey of Family Life." Also industrious were boys in shops who built radios and initiated the first school printing of Tower News.

Mr. James Neimann spent time working with individual students to supplement assignments in his sophomore health class.

Even ½-Credits Helped

In an atmosphere of reconstructed skeletons, anatomical charts, and first aid supplies, Withrow health students were guided in solutions of everyday problems and instructed in the type of well-being necessary to lead useful lives. Sophomore health covered all phases of physical, mental, and emotional balance, while senior health's program of study ranged from first aid and civil defense to home nursing and last, marriage and family living in the community.

Marriage and family life, child care, work habits, grooming—all these topics were presented for research and discussion in senior health.

Behind the wheel, under Mr. Ralph Sensel's discerning eye, students faced the real test in handling a car and showing good driving habits.

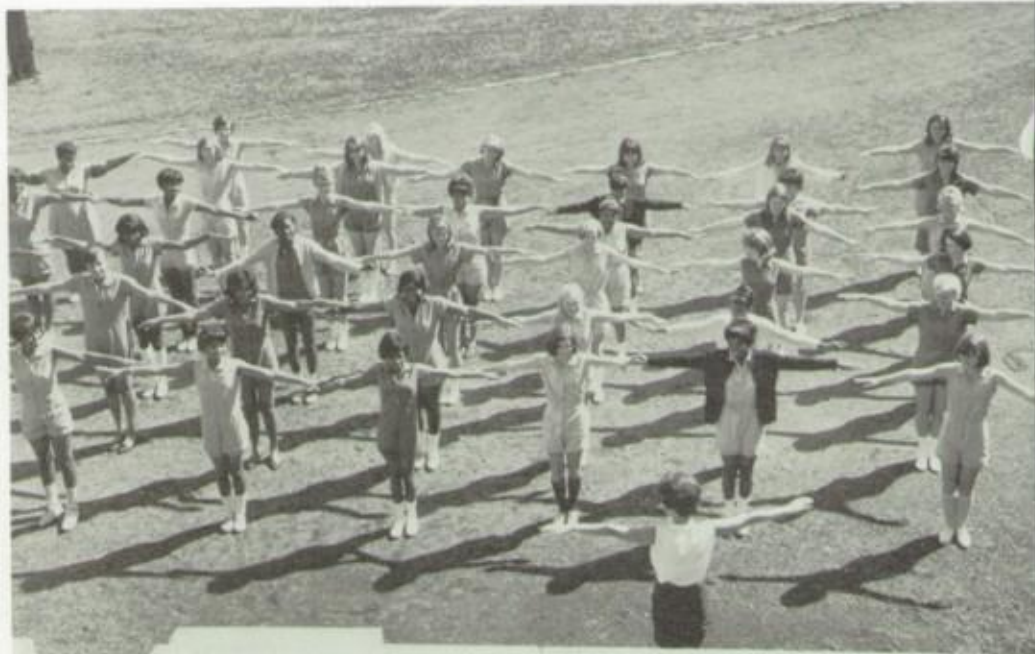

DRIVERS RECEIVE PRACTICAL TRAINING

Mr. David Mather tried to familiarize Robert Spann with the instrument panel.

Mr. Tom Chambers explained engines to Darb DeWar.

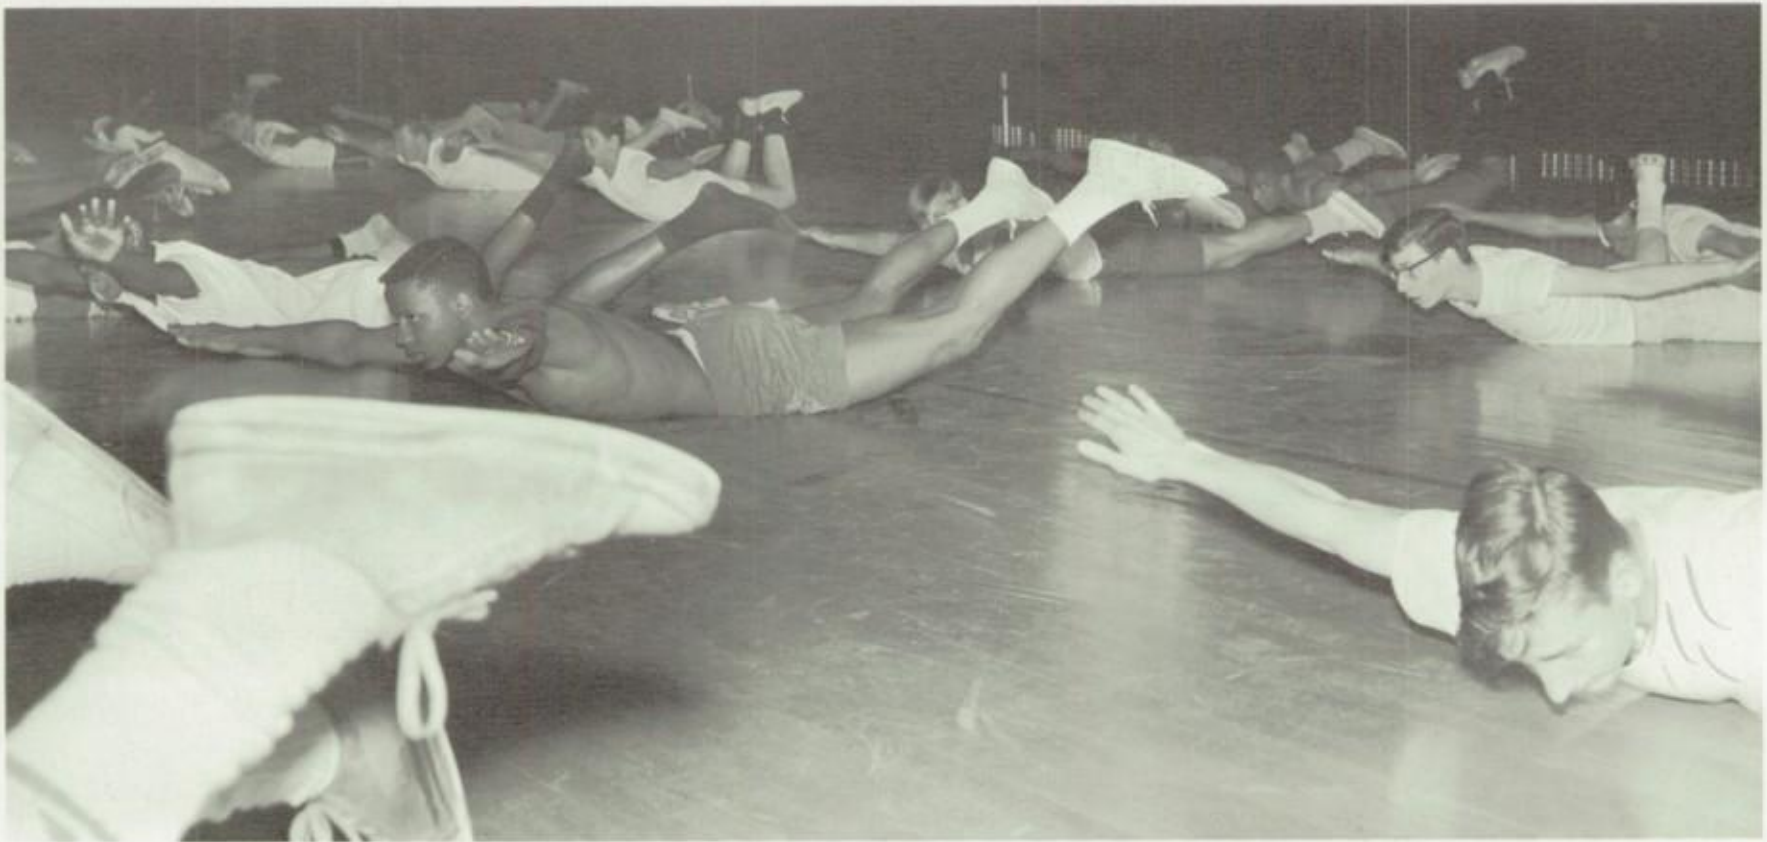

Girls warmed up for field hockey by exercising.

Tone Those Muscles

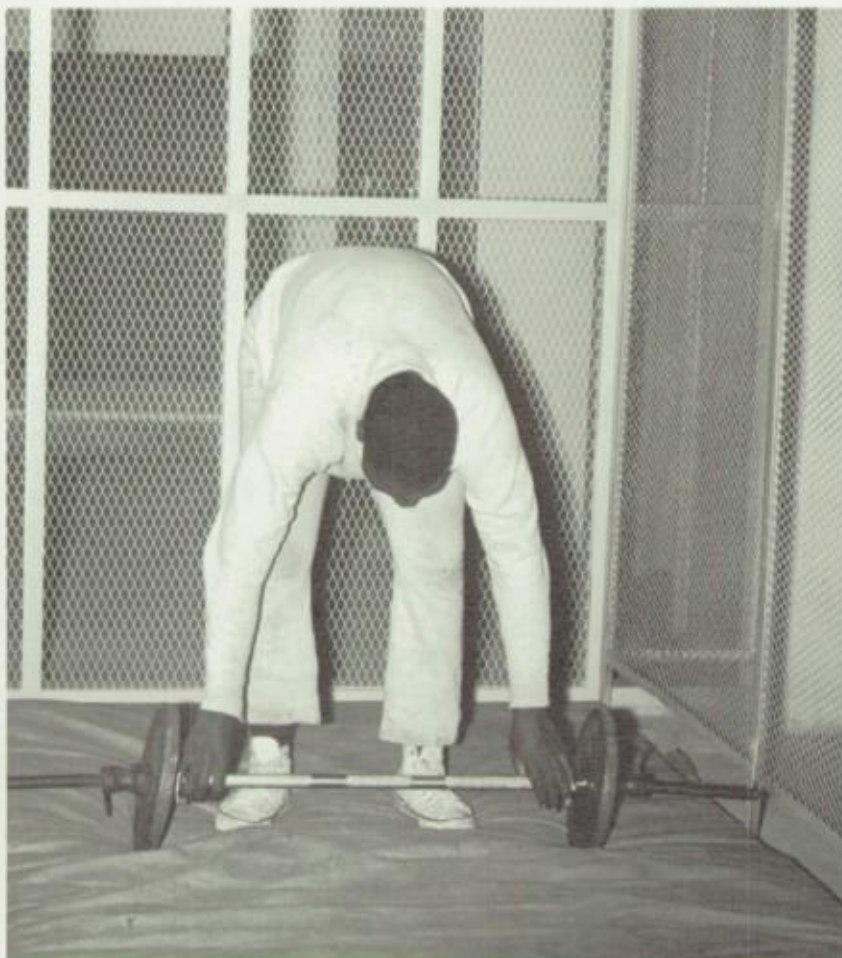

When the sporting program was instituted in the fall, the first events included football for boys and field hockey for girls. Gradually, as snow covered the field, underclassmen moved inside and participated in volleyball, basketball, and tumbling. Spring arrived and with it came softball and track. Throughout the year the Physical Education Department offered a varied program.

Up . . . Down . . . Up . . . Down . . . Up. Will he ever stop?

GYM CLASSES DEVELOP BODY AND MIND

Personifying Withrow's zest for activities, Mr. Ayer was the man on the scene at sporting events and at social functions.

WITHIN THESE WALLS THE ADMINISTRATIVE

With businesslike efficiency Mr. Ayer executed his duties as administrator of over 3,000 students.

Mr. Ayer's warm smile mirrored the elated look of a new Cum Laude member.

Leadership Personified

Assuming the titles and responsibilities of employer, leader, citizen, traveler, and executive, Mr. Ayer set for Withrow students the example of authority, dignity, and ability. He tactfully coordinated the separate functions of a school into one smoothly running machine by planning schedules, organizing activities and recommending changes in curriculum. After school, he worked on the Orphans' Home Board, engaged in many church activities, and participated in Y.M.C.A. as the chairman of the Youth Work Committee. Mr. Ayer relaxed by reading the sports section of the paper and touring his native New England.

CREW IS CAPTAINED BY JOSEPH C. AYER

Without, as well as within, the walls of Withrow Mr. Ayer displayed the energy and motivation necessary to become a respected leader.

Mr. Thomas Armstrong—Grades 7 and 8.

ADMINISTRATORS FEEL PULSE OF WITHROW

Assistant Principals

Tact, diplomacy, and time are required of an assistant principal. They appraised teachers and planned summer school classes. Mr. Spreen had the main responsibilities in revising teaching manuals and fire drill plans for the senior high, while Mr. Lyons administered the book room and Mr. Armstrong handled seven hundred and fifty junior high students.

Mr. Ronald Lyons—Grades 9 and 10.

Mr. William Spreen—Grades 11 and 12.

Mrs. McLean obtained facts before advising.

OFFICE STAFFS ASSIST MANAGEMENT

Executive Aides

Two cue words for Tigertown's counselors and secretaries were "efficiency plus." Counselors changed schedules, issued early excuses and opened vocational doors to Withrow's students. In the administrative offices clerical work included book-keeping, writing transcripts of grades, typing schedules and answering the switchboard. As co-leaders of the school they administered these responsibilities.

Music Master

"Now we present Withrow's Marching Band under the direction of Mr. Gil Curtis." As these familiar words rang out each week, Mr. "C" proved himself the music master. He arranged the "Sounds of Withrow" and took a special pride in the Presentation Orchestra. At home, Mr. Curtis became an avid do-it-yourself man and he had also reserved time for symphony music concerts, musical comedies, and many church activities. While the hills are alive with the sounds of music, so is the Curtis family.

Mr. Gilbert Curtis

"Va a Mia Via?"

Mrs. Doeren started as the walls and floor shuddered. This West Virginian was experiencing her first earthquake while studying in Mexico for a year. She was led to that country by an interest in the Spanish language, sparked by her father's stories of his boyhood in Arizona. Another chance to gain experience in her major came with a trip to Spain. Our traveler was now ready, in February of 1964, to launch her teaching career as a new member of Withrow's Spanish department. Asked what she liked in teaching, she decided, "the students!" Other such all-inclusive opinions showed that Mrs. Doeren was open-minded, ready to mix new ideas with old opinions.

Withrow's History Buff

Orations on the struggles of colonial patriots and the defeat of Napoleon at Waterloo echoed from Room 101, where Mr. Martin Siegel channeled students' minds in both American and World History. Lecturing occupied only a fraction of this teacher's time. Among his other loves were students with ambition and imagination and casting a reel into a trout-filled stream. Although his travels have been limited, this University of Cincinnati graduate has managed to view such an historical place as Williamsburg, Virginia, so that our educator can combine history with personal experiences. Mr. Siegel strove for students to explore the depths of history and its importance in this fast-paced world.

Memory Making Miles

Miss Elizabeth Leslie, a spirited gym teacher, brought excitement to the routine of gym class. Light, easy-going manners, and a good sense of humor brought her in close contact with her students on a casual basis. An interest in people led her to various countries all over the world. On recalling a trip to Hawaii, she stated with a gleam in her eye, "I was on the same plane with Elvis Presley." During those winter months, Miss Leslie ducked hockey sticks and volleyballs, but she does not mind—she is still on that plane from Hawaii in her dreams.

"Around the World"

Travel, poetry, and teaching are among the various activities that intrigued Miss Nolan. She has been on trips to many parts of the world, viewing such sites as the Parthenon in Greece and the Abbey Theater in Dublin. "The people of Ireland, my favorite country, demonstrate warmth and kindness", she stated while leafing through two of her first editions by William Butler Yates and Sean O'Casey. Along with traveling Miss Nolan has contributed time and energy toward politics since the New Deal days. In a less active way, she remembered being an educated spectator in tennis. Although lately Miss Nolan has preferred watching, she recalled, "I played hockey once and never repeated the performance—much to the relief of the others".

Uh-h-m, Good

"It would never be the same without Withrow," Mr. James Gallagher stated decidedly. After his eight years as teacher and director of student activities, it seemed more as though Withrow would not be the same without Mr. "G". Students came to delight in his chemistry lectures, punctuated with bits of droll humor. One grew accustomed to seeing him chat with Sigs, sell tee shirts for Pep Club, or plan Tigertown sports. He devoted extra time to Board of Education committees, returning at late hours to his bachelor's hideaway. Finally, ever eager to travel, Mr. "G." became a familiar figure among Withrow teachers on summer tours to Europe. Teaching and traveling had been his objectives since youth—for Mr. Gallagher two goals achieved.

Globe Trotters

Francais Thompson wrote: "The summer looks out from her brazen tower, through the flashing bars of July," which was emblematic of the Knosts' vacations. As Withrow's Tower sees much from its vantage, so did the Knosts on their journeys abroad. Crusading from the mosques of India through the ports of Hong Kong to the Holy Lands was the trend of the couple's travels. Exotic regions were left behind; to the future, fall was around the corner. The knowledge from their summers aided Mrs. Knost in her teaching of geography, while Mr. Knost, a business teacher, gathered data on the expense of travel.

One-Man Show!

As the sun colors the sky, so does art color life. Mr. Jack Mueller has helped to color drab times at Withrow. Being the adviser to the Annual Art Staff and an art teacher, he has helped students to express their ideas as blots and splashes of paint. Mr. Mueller felt "teenagers, who are the nicest people I know because they seem to be younger every year, have made art rewarding to teach." Besides painting, Mr. Mueller occupied his leisure time by spanning the globe on one of his trips to Europe or by listening to Chopin and Verdi. Teachers, students, and friends praised Mr. Jack Mueller on his fourth one-man show of over one hundred of his paintings at the Cincinnati Art Club.

OFFICERS PLAN EVENTS FOR 700 SENIORS

Merry Stenburg, treasurer; Bill Gerth, president; Jo Ogley, vice-president; Nancy Pope, secretary.

Action Followed Ideas

Leading the class through a prosperous year by the sale of popcorn, chocolate turtles, and stuffed animals, officers of the senior class financed their many programs this year. The main project instituted by the class leaders was to purchase new curtains for the stage in the auditorium. Money left from this project was added to the Senior Class Scholarship Fund.

DUX + SIG = ABILITY + LEADERSHIP

A High Call!

"It is straight down the hall," directed a Dux girl at the parents' open house. Being service organizations, Dux and Sigma Gamma assisted at such functions as dances and faculty teas. They also spread their wares for sale in the front hall. The demand for after-school popcorn was heavy. To "make the team," to become part of this, and to share the honor, a student must have reflected the qualities of leadership, scholarship, and have a warm personality.

Tiger Twirler

A long chain of events led to Jo's call to Dux. The firmest link was added as Jo secured the vice-presidency of the Senior Class. Solid bonds were fastened by her election to Daisy Chain and her acceptance in Cum Laude. Withrow's Homecoming Queen soldered another link as head major-ette. Despite time-consuming interests, such as teaching piano, Jo spent many hours stretched on the floor studying Advanced Placement English and math. Whether marching on the field or keeping in step in her studies, Jo Ogley formed an increasing chain of honors.

Show Stopper

As the curtain rose, one was seldom aware of the effort made to prepare the show. Sig Bill Gerth played an important part in running the show at Withrow. Using his salesmanship ability, Bill offered his ideas at meetings of the Ticket Sales Committee. Directing the show at the meetings of Senior Class, Bill exhibited his proficiency as a president when he led a prosperous year for the class. Performing at third base, Bill caught line drives and initiated double plays. When the curtain fell, Bill had attained his membership in Sigma Gamma.

La Crescendo

A trail of Milky Way wrappers and a catching giggle led through the hall toward the Tower News Business Office, where a peek revealed a form hunched over the desk, counting the proceeds collected during the day. A trail also blazed ahead to Quill and Scroll and finally to the popcorn booth. Energy-giving popcorn enabled her to traipse down stairs while carrying her books on the way to History Club meeting. Her grades and missions produced a crescendo on the night when Michelle Chesnut bounded over the wall to make her debut in Dux Femina.

Mr. President

As Paul DeVore presided over Student Council's meetings, mountains were transformed into mole hills. While fourth page co-editor of Tower News, Paul resolved still more problems. He also acquired a job as an usher in the "Sounds of Withrow." Munching on Fritos while doing his Advanced Placement math homework, he would admit that Mr. Benner was his favorite teacher. This Sig also took pleasure in his summer task as a lifeguard. Paul departed from his alma mater, bidding his underclassmen to have fun but never to neglect their responsibilities.

Nancy Pope

Cheerleading Dux

When she was not at sports events, Nancy Pope was often found expressing her opinions in a small voice, which politely demanded attention from all at a History Club meeting; but she was more exuberant on the volleyball courts. Small, but outstanding, on the stage of "Sounds of Withrow," she took her place in Withrow's Senior Choir. Her favorite recollections though occurred at the football games. As a cheerleader, she led the crowds in the cheers with the roars of the Tiger Band as her inspiration.

Checkmate

Achievement can be realized solely by having a plan of attack in mind. The same has been true in the game of chess. Ben's method was evident immediately. First, as Withrow's number one chess player, he thrust his front line forward. Next, Ben initiated a powerful campaign as he procured congressional candidates to speak at History Club meetings. Then, he closed in on his goal by working at his most challenging subject—Advanced Placement chemistry. Suddenly, as his aim appeared, Ben checkmated the King in being elected president of Sigma Gamma.

A Tiger Taps

"Guide right!" This command rang out as Sara Hopkins, drill team co-captain, marched toward the field. After tapping her writing abilities on the Annual Literary Staff, she gained the title of Editor. Other talents proved her to be adept in Advanced Placement history, which led her to the decision of studying politics or pre-law in college. Her altruistic interest in people became apparent when she worked as a volunteer Candy Stripper at Christ Hospital. The greatest thrill for Sara came when she was tapped as a member of Dux Femina!

Summa Cum Laude

Never faltering under the academic burden, Duncan competed in four Advanced Placement subjects, meriting top-ranking grades and the admiration of his classmates. His analytic mind went to work again as he presided over German Club, balanced the books for Sigma Gamma, or assumed the vice-president's chair at History Club meetings. His perceptive powers still unstrained, Duncan read avidly to understand today's world. From Tower News office to calculus class, Duncan McFarland exhibited the intellectual stamina which became his trademark.

Out-stretched arms of both teachers and principal found their marks as deserving seniors joined the ranks of Cum Laude. The torch of nearly a decade of academic fulfillment was continued by these tapped candidates. The qualification necessary for acceptance was a superior academic rating with extra points earned by advanced-placement courses. After the spring tapping on Cum Laude Day, the new members were formally initiated at the society's yearly banquet. The reward for toil was the pleasure of Cum Laude.

Cum Laude

Suspense turned to triumph for Debbie French as she was tapped by Miss Moormann.

Spring Tapping

In March twelve seniors were tapped for Cum Laude as a result of their scholastic averages attained during the first semester of the year. Below are Barbara Bacchus, Roberta Carney, Paul De Vore, Michael Fluharty, William Gerth, Kenneth Gray, Susan Hennessy, Victoria Houlihan, Harold Levy, David Miller, Nancy Pope, Elizabeth Soderstrom, Janice Stine, and Robert White. In recognition of their outstanding scholastic and cultural contributions the honor society also tapped faculty members Mr. Melville Bosse of the Science Department and Mr. Ansel Martin of the Music Department.

The Lioness

This G.A.A. member's desire to own a lion may have been a mystery, but there was no mystery in her pouncing on many activities. This blue-eyed blond spent many hours working on layouts and meeting deadlines as Art Editor of Annual. She leaped at the opportunity of being president of Dux, where she continually asked for silence. The thought of balancing the books for the Teenage Republican Club caused this History Club member to purr. There is no secret in knowing this make-up committee chairman's identity—Karen.

Deadline Demon

As Ken Gray's three years ticked away at Withrow, so did the minutes before the next deadline. Ken's knack for journalism won for him the chief position on Tower News. As editor he made sure the school news was constantly at our fingertips. More of his time flew by as he spent many of his after school hours in History Club and Quill and Scroll. Ken also kept minutes as Recording Secretary of Sigma Gamma and kept order as Sergeant-at-Arms of Student Council. Minutes, days, and years may pass quickly; but Ken found in each its true value.

Barb Harris

"Woman Leader"

Quill and Scroll, Scribblers, and Tower News highlighted Barb Harris' venture into the field of writing. While including Advanced Placement Math and English in her curriculum, she also lent her energy to Senior Choir and the "Sounds of Withrow." Being a natural leader, Barbara attained offices in both Scribblers and Dux. With spare hours occupied by G.A.A. and History Club, Barbara also delighted in riding her horse, Little Joe. In recognition of her efforts, Barb entered the honor society of Withrow—Dux Femina.

Music Man

Fortissimo! One senior Sig struck the downbeat of his day by "calling the numbers" to the Pep Band on a crisp October morning. In another musical mood this avid trombonist slid through band and the "Sounds." His rhythmic themes progressed in History and Pep Club meetings. Advanced Placement math added a more serious tone to his academic life, while "folk-rock" music and DeMolay captured his spare moments. Quite opposite his list of likes were his pet peeves ranging from phonies to pickles. Being called to Cum Laude and Sigma Gamma struck with a flourish the high notes for Bill Gilbert.

Sue Hennessy

Galloping Dux

Sue delighted in romping over fields on a frisky steed. She also galloped full speed down the Academic Trail and visited at 301 European History Street. At Activities Village, she took on an extra load. The French Club, in the French Quarter, borrowed her secretarial abilities. Other areas welcomed her regularly. Sue rushed over to Tigertown, where she lent her literary talents to Tower News. She delighted in receiving mail, so she ran into the Post Office and asked about her letters. Heading home, she thought of her future. Would she study at U.C. and maybe travel to France?

Charged Sig

As Sig Dave Kuhn peered through a window, calculations for a radio transmitter clicked in his mind. A main energy source at Withrow, Dave spent much time backstage repairing electrical equipment or recording music for Senior Band and Pony tryouts. When not active as stagemanager, Dave on Fridays installed football communication systems and helped ready the hi-fis for open houses. Whether soldering a connection on faculty telephone systems or attending Saturday crew calls, this Sigma Gamma member proved to be one truly charged Tiger.

Regal Tigers

Balloons, crepe paper, streamers and festive music sparkled the atmosphere of Withrow's three annual dances: Homecoming, Tigertown Twirl and Cardiac Capers. Vying for the honor of King and Queen for each of these occasions were those nominated by the Senior Class. As the hour of 11:00 P.M. approached, the winners were chosen by the pupils attending the dance. Cheers and laughter were exchanged as the royalty were presented with their crowns and silver identification bracelets. The royal kiss climaxed the evening.

Susan Massey

Journalist

The start of any journey always begins with the first step. Susan Massey's excursion through Withrow revealed many facets. Among them were long hours of meeting deadlines and correcting copy, for which she was rewarded with the title of first page co-editor of Tower News. This honor was doubled by her becoming vice-president of Quill and Scroll. Her travels advanced through Dux meetings, where Sue recorded its history. There was a pause for some relaxation in Girls' Glee Club. Susan's sojourn here was a good beginning through life itself.

Solving Sig

Membership in Student Council and Pep Club, Advanced Placement math, chemistry and physics, and a jovial grin contributed to Joe Santoro's call to Sigma Gamma. This brown-eyed Sig, astute in most forms of mathematics, found solving for "x" far easier than composing English themes. Through experience in Mr. Craigo's mechanical drawing class, by working as a draftsman and as a part time surveyor's assistant, Joe prepared for a career in Civil or Aeronautical Engineering.

Suzy Gwinner

Sporty Dux

"If you want knowledge you must toil for it." These words must have been Suzy Gwinner's main aims and plans at Withrow. Her eyes sparkled while doodling in art club and Scribblers developed her literary talents. Dolphin Club and Drill Team dominated her after-school hours and she completed the realm of activities by singing and playing the guitar. For within Withrow's walls Suzy gained the Presidency of G.A.A. and her call to Dux Femina on Awards Night.

Racket Man

George P. Mehl's racket was tennis. Being the leading scorer at Withrow and executing many winning points in the trials of the championship games, he considered traveling to the tournaments the finest reward for his efforts. This spaghetti-eating scholar remembered his days with Miss Nolan and could also recall efforts in Advanced Placement Physics. While representing his class at Student Council meetings, he displayed the same leadership qualities that he expressed as he represented Withrow in many tennis tournaments.

Merry Stenburg

A Real Dux

Who was the blonde mathematician of the Senior Class? It was none other than animated Merry Stenburg. Counting money, checking accounts, and watching budgets kept this Cum Laude member on the run as treasurer of the Senior Class, while her writing abilities led her to fill positions in Quill and Scroll and on Tower News. Even with this busy schedule, Merry still practiced her citizenship as Girls' Week representative. Her numerous fields of interests and affinity for people were trademarks of a real Dux Femina.

Mathematical Mind

Trying to keep up with Mike Flanagan sometimes proved quite a chore. While he not only held the office of corresponding secretary in Sigma Gamma, this active band trumpeteer also managed to follow through his Advanced Placement classes of history, mathematics, chemistry, and English. Completing a hard day at school and the Pepsi-Cola company, Mike spent most of his time playing an active game of football or reading an imaginative science fiction book. Mike recalled his hours in Miss Graham's Advanced Placement math class the most beneficial ones at Withrow High School.

Geneva Kinard

Dux Concerto

With the harmonious strains of Leonard Bernstein and Sergei Rachmaninoff paving the way Geneva Kinard swung into Withrow, ascended scale and placed her note high on the musical staff. Piano soloist and accompanist for Sounds of Withrow accented her all encompassing overture while minor chords of Art Club and French Club helped build the crescendo. The beckoning beat of the metronome hastened her without a rest from her hobbies of music appreciation and sketching back to the unfinished concerto of school work. She kept Dux in tune as Vice-President. Withrow was only the prelude in the recital of Geneva's life.

Hunter Ends Safari!

This year Don Shreve completed his three-year safari through Withrow's halls. Aiming high, he proved his marksmanship by winning the vice-presidency of Student Council and membership on its executive committee. His attempt to ferret out the facts and principles in Modern European History gave new insight to his casual concern with his times. Each day his trap, set by the lunchroom ticket booth, ensnared for him many an unwary Tiger and increased the roar at the games. Finally, Don bagged his most coveted trophy—membership in Withrow's Sigma Gamma.

A Frisky Pony

Within the walls of Withrow echoed the familiar voice of a Drill Team co-captain rehearsing new routines. This same spirited senior was often seen rushing to French and History Club meetings or selling popcorn in the main hall after sixth bell. In spite of her many school activities she still found time to give baton lessons every Tuesday night. Her avid French interest was shown by her future dream of someday being able to teach a year in this colorful country. A frisky Pony whose rapid pace gained her membership to Dux Femina was Bonnie Rutherford.

Microscopic Genius

Wading through ancient Roman coins and stamp collections, Mike Lemon was involved in a torrent of Tigertown activities. While he played French horn in the band and Presentation orchestra, Mike also rotated from Advanced Placement history to math class. Solving equations and searching for microscopic organisms intrigued this lover of raw turnips while the lighter side of his life was spent in History and Pep Clubs. Furthering the teenager's cause, he went to Michigan for the Hyde Park Teen Center. "Sigma Gamma calls—Mike Lemon" brought applause.

South African Diplomat

Withrow believes in involvement in affairs of local and global scope. To promote international peace, she welcomed this year a South African exchange student, Wendy Hendrikz. By blending well with the student body, Wendy proved the similarity of countries foreign by as much as ten thousand miles. She gave insight into her country where the luxuries are fewer and the teenage palate loves springbuck and ostrich instead of hamburger and pizza; in the meantime she learned of American life and the "organized chaos" at Withrow. In Wendy, America and South Africa joined to keep peace.

In the homestretch of their high school years, Withrow seniors moved at a breathtaking tempo. Under enrollment pressures, college-bound students put forth their last efforts. Sports fans found amusement in all seasons, while Homecoming and other dances drew Tiger socialites. Seniors closed the year by purchasing new curtains for the auditorium.

On Awards Night the efforts of would-be-seniors were recognized by the calling of Dux's and Sig's. The presentations of scholarships from National Merit Society, Student Council and the Cadwallader Foundation were among the honors bestowed upon seniors. Graduation night gave promise of uncertainty for many and marked the end of an era for Withrow's seven hundred and eighty-seven graduates.

Seniors donned caps and gowns as they gathered for the ceremony.

Creative Journalism

Pink carnations symbolized the tapping of thirty excited junior and senior girls for membership in Withrow's literary club. As an honorary society, Scribblers judged applicants on the originality and expression of their compositions, essays or poems. Following the formal initiation, monthly meetings were held to further knowledge in the literary field. A rewarding experience was a lecture given by Betty Donovan, a writer for the Post and Times Star paper on "Careers for Women in Journalism." English supervising teacher, Mr. John Clark, a former Withrow instructor, also returned to give equally interesting advice in the field of creative journalism.

An auction, held at the beginning of the year, exemplified the meetings of Gens Togata. Under obligation to the old members, the new members, after having been bid for and sold by the auctioneer, were under complete control of the old members and performed various acts for them. Next, an augur halted the auction and prophesied events of the coming year by plucking pieces of a chicken symbolizing good or bad fortunes. The finale was the traditional Spring banquet, where members reminisced the year's good times.

"Somberos, jumping beans, or tigertails? That is the question," noted the Spanish club members on the Tigertown booth committee. The dance was the primary concern of the club during the fall. When spring arrived, they invited several speakers who were natives of Latin America. The club also welcomed a missionary who had worked in Central America.

CHESS CLUB

GERMAN CLUB

A German bishop checkmated the king. The queen was taken by a German knight. Sponsored by Mrs. Barban and Mr. Bosse and presided over by Duncan McFarland and Ben Feng, respectively, German Club and Chess Club combined their efforts. Every Tuesday afternoon mentally tenacious students played chess, while German enthusiasts gathered monthly. In their own ways these two clubs sought to build the intellectual capacities of members.

Willingness to help characterized the Red Cross Club. Advised by Mrs. Sharon Stringfield, the members filled disaster kits for people made homeless by floods and fires. The kits contained lipstick, hairpins and other morale boosters. Soft toys for children's homes were among club contributions. Community service identified Health Careers Club, open to anyone anticipating a medical career. Under the advisement of Miss Judy Theile, the group sponsored field trips to Merrill Drug Co. and to U. Y-TEENS

Guided by Mrs. Montana Jones, Alpha Y-Teens devoted their services to the betterment of unfortunate children. Open to girls from all grades, this branch of the Y.W.C.A. made supplies for hospitals, orphanages, and other children's homes. Members in March raised money by selling potato chips. By their efforts Y-Teens proved the Withrow tiger had a sympathetic, as well as a stout, heart.

First prize for the most unique Tigertown booth went to History Club's "Storm the Canterbury Castle." Designs on award winning carnival attractions were a mere feather in this club's headdress. Other feathers include Robert Taft's and John Gilligan's venturing to a meeting to vie for students' allegiance, while South African Wendy Hendrikz carried history buffs to her native home via slides and a monologue. History Club served as an outlet for historical enthusiasm.

F.T.A.

Directed by Mrs. Temple, head of Home-Economics, Future Homemakers carried on its old tradition. At Halloween and Christmas, orphans and elder citizens of the area feasted on cookies and cakes baked in Withrow's kitchens. Being representative to a state-wide meeting of the organization was each future housewife's greatest desire. Meanwhile, Future Teachers filled many students with the qualities of a good teacher. Methods of job training included a city-wide meeting and a day of teaching in a class. These clubs worked to build our future on a sound domestic and educational foundation.

THALIAN

In romance, comedy, suspense, and drama, Withrow's Thalian Players, under the direction of Miss Rosenberger, presented numerous assemblies for students. Senior high pupils were chosen twice a year on the basis of talent evaluated by the officers. A picnic at the end of the year officially initiated new members into the group. Another project was a Christmas program given for children at the Findlay Street Neighborhood House. Finally, the play "The Trial of Nancy Gage" highlighted the abilities of Thalian Players.

Withrow's spy ring creates havoc.

"The Trial of Nancy Gage"

"The Trial of Nancy Gage" began with a versatile director, Miss Marjorie Rosenberger, and a star-studded cast of Withrow's Thalian Players. Fictitious Muse Haven and a plot of murder to be recreated successfully for an audience meant long hours of practice and hard work for the members of the amateur dramatics club.

Attorney Gorden Thayer cross-examined witness Dee Stevens.

Productive branches of Distribution Education Clubs of America were the members of Withrow's merchandizing organization. Jewelry and turtle sales aided their merchandizing and helped them to learn the fundamentals of the business world. During the year they participated in the Miami Convention at Miami University and the District Contest, held at Princeton. From this enterprise at Withrow, these young businessmen have an insight to the business problems of today.

ART CLUB

Did you wander through Mt. Adams to see Mr. Jack Mueller's exhibit? Or accompany a guided tour around Tomar Gift Shop? Your passport for such trips was a membership in Art Club. These Art buffs' jaunts varied from sauntering through Miller's Gallery in Hyde Park to the "Arts of Spain." A mere enthusiasm was the ticket for admission to their group, although zest proved to be only a springboard for after-hour brainstorm and creations. Anyone who cared for dabbling in this means of expression sailed with Art Club.

“Do, Re, Mi” Resounded

Under the direction of Mr. Ansel Martin sounds of Senior Choir rang out from Room 150. All facets of musical melodies from popular to classical were vocalized. To be eligible for this group, one must be able to sight-read, have correct range, pitch and good voice quality. Being part of the Christmas and Spring Concerts as well as the “Sounds of Withrow,” kept the members busy while trips to junior high schools gave an insight to their musical talents and achievements.

Daily exercises insured breath control and tone quality.

“Thundering, Thundering”

“Seventy-six trombones led the big parade, with a hundred and ten coronets right behind.” Melodic sounds flowed forth from the Senior Band as they marched down the football field during half-time at a game. “Thundering, thundering, louder than before.” Besides holding Christmas and Spring Concerts and playing in the “Sounds of Withrow,” they also drew students to early morning pep rallies. “Clarinets of every size and trumpeters that improvised . . .” Musicians of varied talents filled the ranks of Withrow’s band.

This suzaphone player added his melodies to “Can Can For Band.”

Withrow's auditorium was engulfed in a spell of silence. A light tap was heard, and seventy-five instruments were poised and ready to play. There was a small rapid motion of the baton quickly followed by the harmonizing of thirty-five woodwinds and forty strings. Another performance by the Withrow orchestra had begun. Under the direction of Mr. Don Lackey and aid of concert master, Robert Haddix, the orchestra played at the Spring and Christmas concerts. Bidding the graduating seniors farewell, the young musicians also performed at Graduation Ceremonies.

Forty-nine members of the Withrow Junior High School band, led by Mr. Lackley, attempted to gain the proficiency necessary for membership in the Senior Band. To achieve this end, the band, along with the majorettes, who were headed by Patti Warren and Denise Hooker, instilled spirit at the football games during the fall and participated in the Hyde Park Carnival Parade in the spring. Selections, such as "Gypsy Campfire" and "American We" were presented at the Annual Junior High Spring Concert as the band members gained experience in public performance.

School service was supplied by three groups of workers. Ticket booth boys sold I.D. cards and game tickets. In another duty area the nurse's aids issued bandages and filed medical reports. The third group of volunteers handled Withrow's versatile display cases, which offered a blend of exhibits, ranging from royalty candidates to sales campaigns. Among other features were seasonal and holiday displays, plus an accumulation of athletic trophies, which the Tigers had won.

OFFICE HELP

Office help engaged in such activities as uncovering cards from the file cabinet, ferreting out information for callers, scurrying about the halls on errands and doing occasional typing. Another organization to assist teachers was gym help, who distributed gym suits and straightened the locker room. To join, a student had to have a free bell and a desire to work.

Ring of a cash register and the jangle of coins were heard near the Tigers' Bargain Den. Whether cataloging invoices, stocking for the next day's sales, or ordering supplies, den keepers Ron Herzog and Steve Hasel were always bargaining for time. Down the hall was heard the clatter of books being shelved. Bookroom workers managed the dispersement of books ranging from The Old Man and The Sea to Latin III.

CAMPUS LIFE

SAFETY COUNCIL

Two new clubs materialized in September. Withrow's chapter of the Greater Cincinnati Safety League sponsored road rallies, a safety assembly, and the Safety Week. To minimize traffic violations was the main objective of the G.C.S.L. A second service organization was Campus Life, formerly the Bible Club. Speakers, including a businessman, a scientist, and a missionary, informed interested students in specific vocational areas.

Getting Tower News and Annual from the writers to the readers necessitated a vigorous sales drive. When the two publications reached the press, homeroom representatives had already combed the ranks of their classmates, accumulated a sale of twenty-one hundred annuals and eight-hundred papers bi-monthly. This early effort allowed fast, efficient delivery without the buyers having the burden of financial transactions.

FOLK SINGING CLUB

Cincinnati's first high school Folksinging Club premiered at Withrow and showed a bright new release for student's feelings. A ticket for admission to the club was merely an interest in Folk music, although tryouts were required for "Hootenany '67" in which students' and teachers' talents were discovered. Under the supervision of Mr. Higgins. Anything from a guitar, comb with paper to an empty milk bottle were accompaniments to protest songs, love ballads and folktunes.

Gathered around guitars and a bass these folksingers sing "Green, Green"

STAGE CREW

Behind every Withrow assembly there are nearly a dozen stage crew boys. These boys, under the supervision of Mr. Elston Hurst, did such things as build sets, take care of props and various other small tasks. To aid the stage crew Mr. Heger's projection crew was available to show films. The projection crews showed movies in classrooms, as well as in the auditorium for the student body.

OUR FOOTBALL SQUAD TO VICTORY.

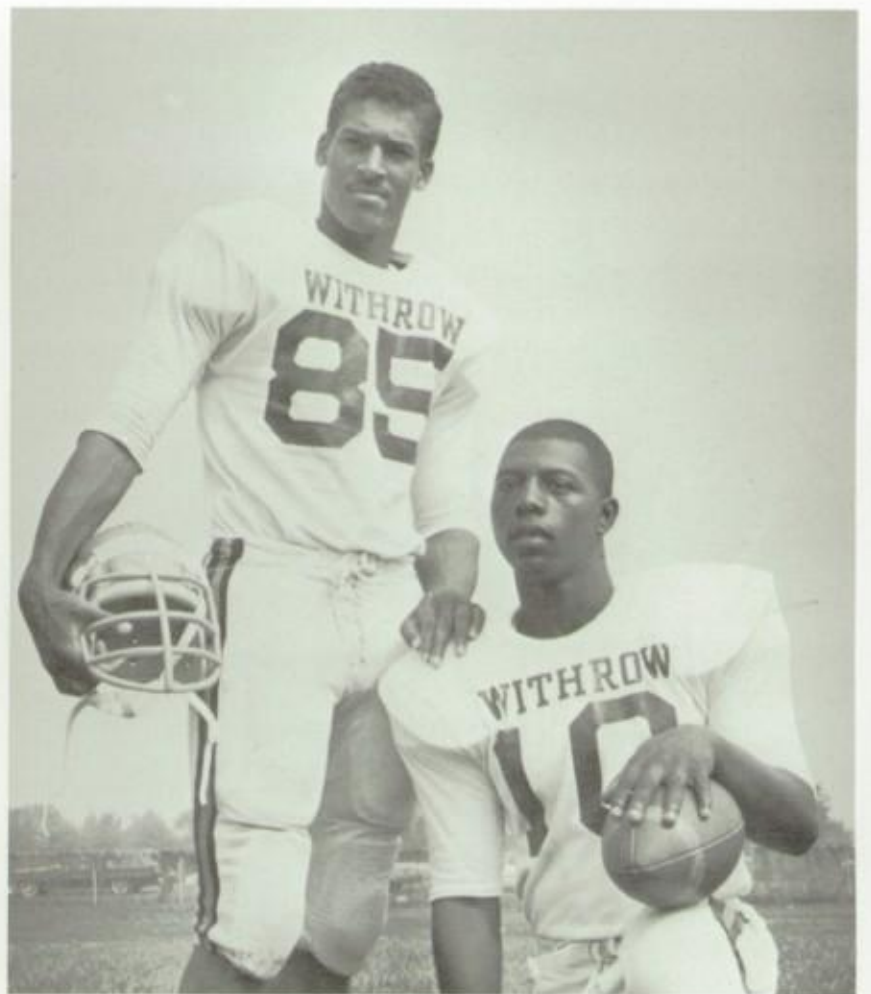

What Does It Take?

What man expected to see a display of strength, agility, and self-sacrifice on the gridiron? Our Tiger head-coach Marvin Merritt did. He was not disappointed as grid-men, such as Skip Coleman, Tom Bouldin, and George Walker, exerted the offensive prowess so essential for winning. Our team showed the grim determination needed to surmount such a grueling schedule of competition.

Withrow—Third Place PHSL

Withrow gridmen began the 1966-'67 football season with three games and three victories. A slump then hit the Tiger defense with Walnut Hills and Niles victories, but the Bengals bounded back with an 18—14 win over Courter Tech. Homecoming brought the PHSL title game against Woodward. The Bulldogs kept the Tigers in their lairs with a 46—6 win. Ending the season with a tally of five wins and four losses the Withrow Tigers logged a third place finish in the Public High School League.

Senators Maul Tigers

Withrow lost a chance to finish the season in second place when Taft's Senators handed the Tigers their third and last conference defeat. A strong Taft defense held Withrow scoreless throughout the game as the Bengals committed numerous fumbles. The Tiger defense, while lacking in the first half, held the visiting Senators pointless in the second half.

Linda Copperthwaite kept cadence for cheering at the Taft game.

Senior Julius Cobb tackled a Taft end in a futile effort as the Tigers were defeated twenty-two to nothing.

Experience was the only gain for Tiger coach James Alberque's squad. Lacking the ability and experience so necessary for a winning team, the junior high grid-men finished in last place. Though the boys never gave up hope, they were soundly defeated in their four games. Their defense seemed to be the key problem as the freshman squad yielded and average of over forty points per game while gaining only six.

Varsity Basketball

Coach John Huheey, rebounding from a year's retirement, urged his netmen to a league championship. The Tiger hardwood squad set the courts sizzling while chalking up six consecutive victories. Suffering a relapse, however, the hoopmen lost three in a row. Coming out of the tailspin, the Tigers, led by Seniors Eugene Sewell, Lloyd Russell, and Bill Jackson, unleashed their claws as they won their final nine games in championship style. Taft and Hughes, unable to maintain the pace, fought down to the wire.

Bill Jackson wheeled around his defensive man at Western Hills.

An Aiken Falcon overrode Lloyd Russell's lay-up shot.

Junior Chris Wheat popped from the corner although Taft defeated Withrow 63—57.

Cager Quintet Statistics

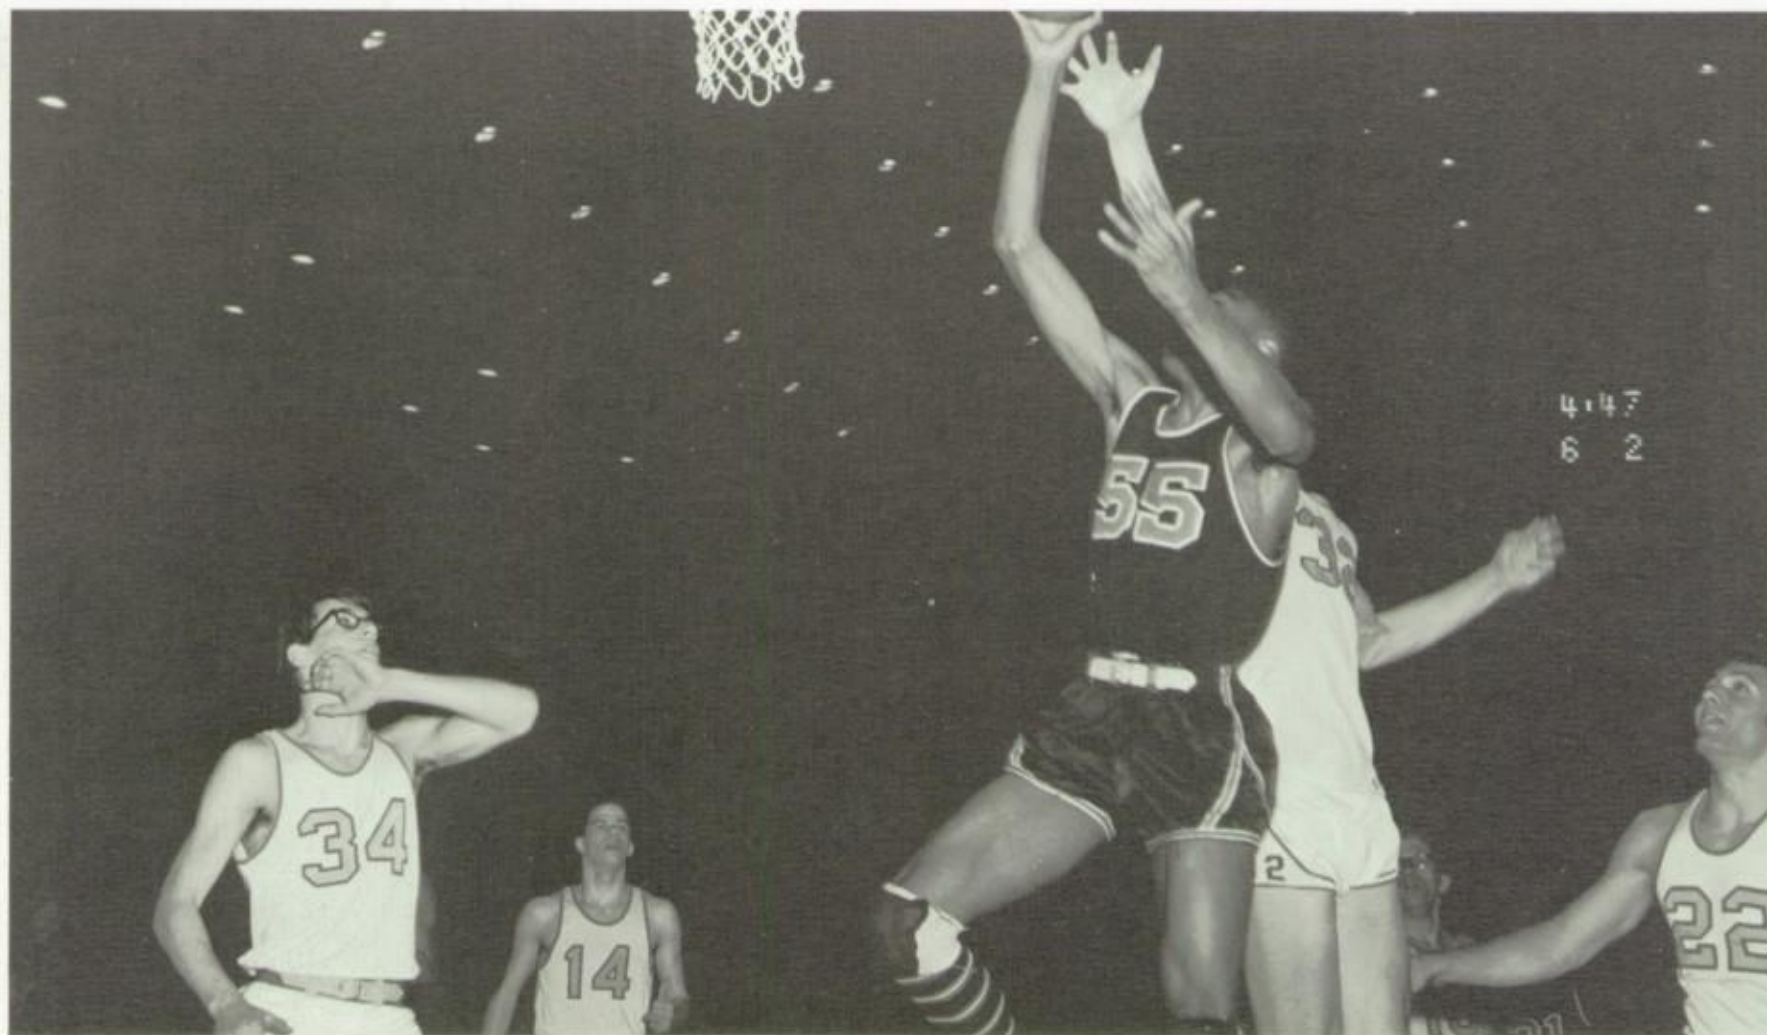

Twelve was the lucky number as the Tiger dozen netted just over twelve-hundred points. The Bengals ripped the nets at an average of over 67 points per game while they stopped their aggressors on the average of 54 points. Such statistics formed an impressive 16—4 season. Senior hoopmen Eugene Sewell, Bill Jackson, and Lloyd Russell combined for 692 points, well over half of the squad's total accumulation, as the cager quintet romped to their PHSL championship.

Bill Jackson hit a jump shot against Mariemont.

Senior Bill Jackson, surrounded by a swarm of Mariemont Warriors, scored on a lay-up to start the Tiger assault.

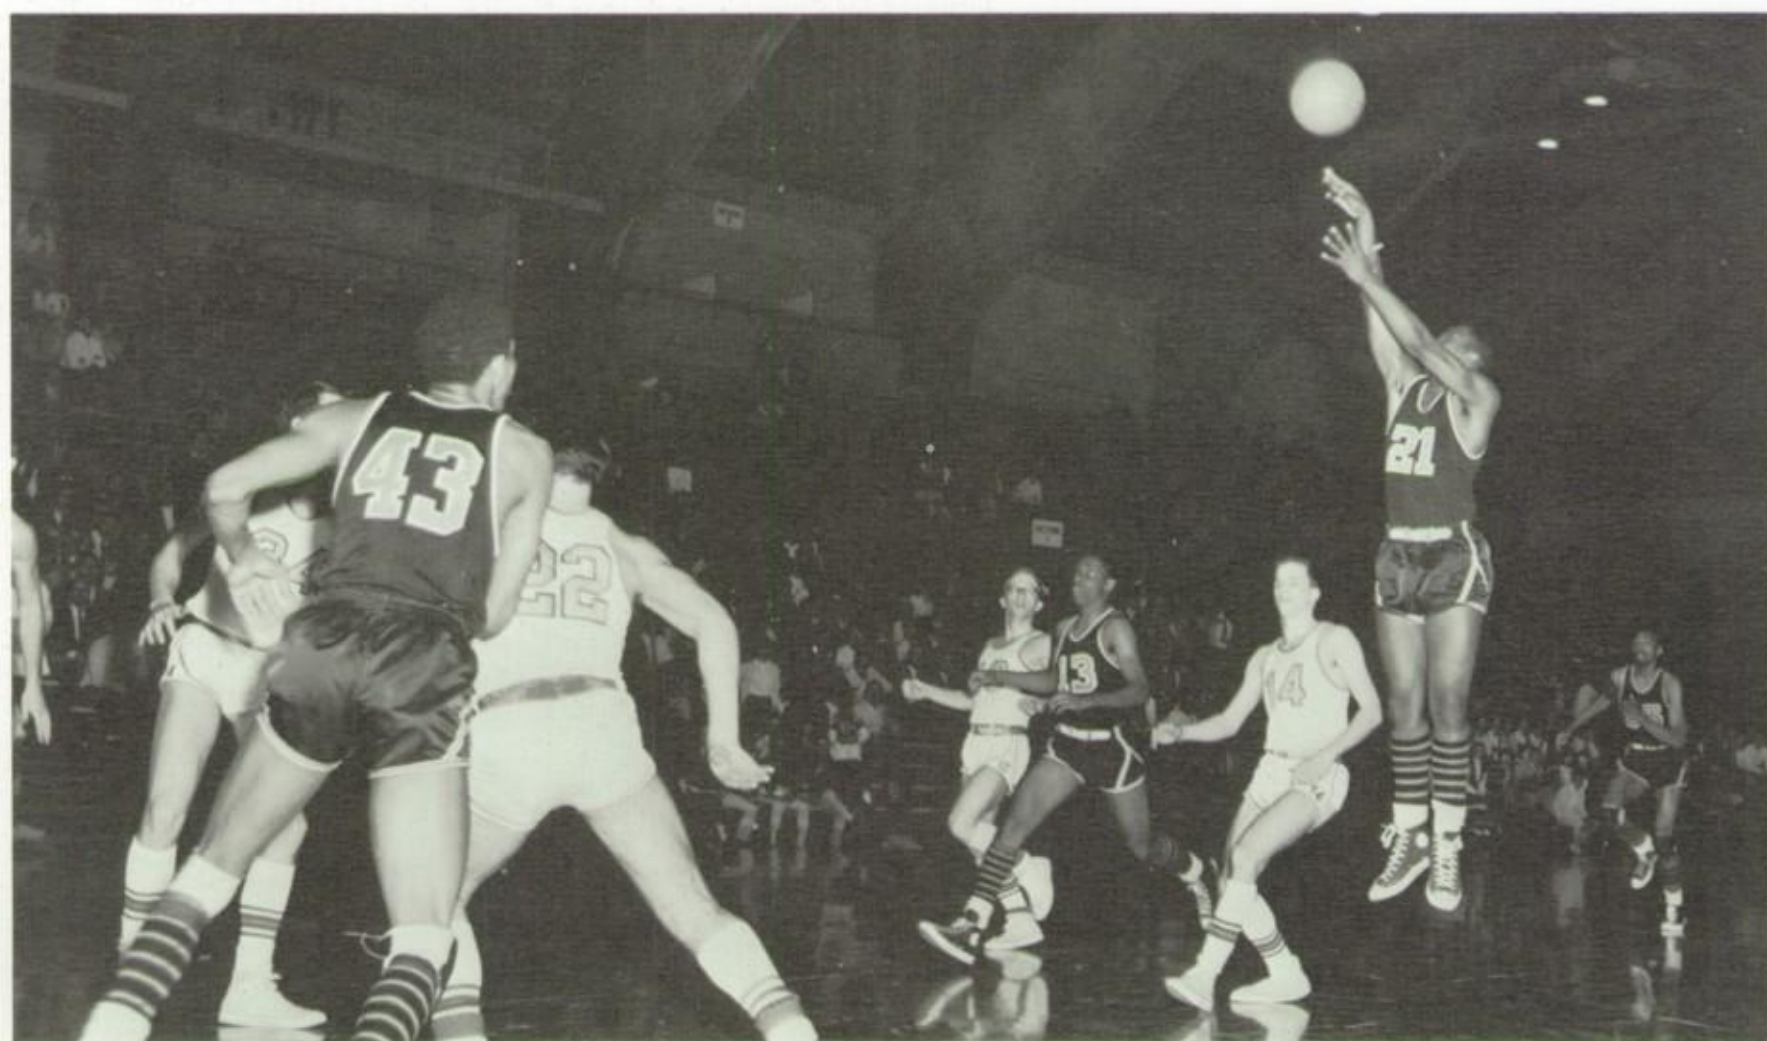

Senior Eugene Swell out-maneuvered a host of Mariemont Warriors to score on a layup in the opening moments of the District Tournament.

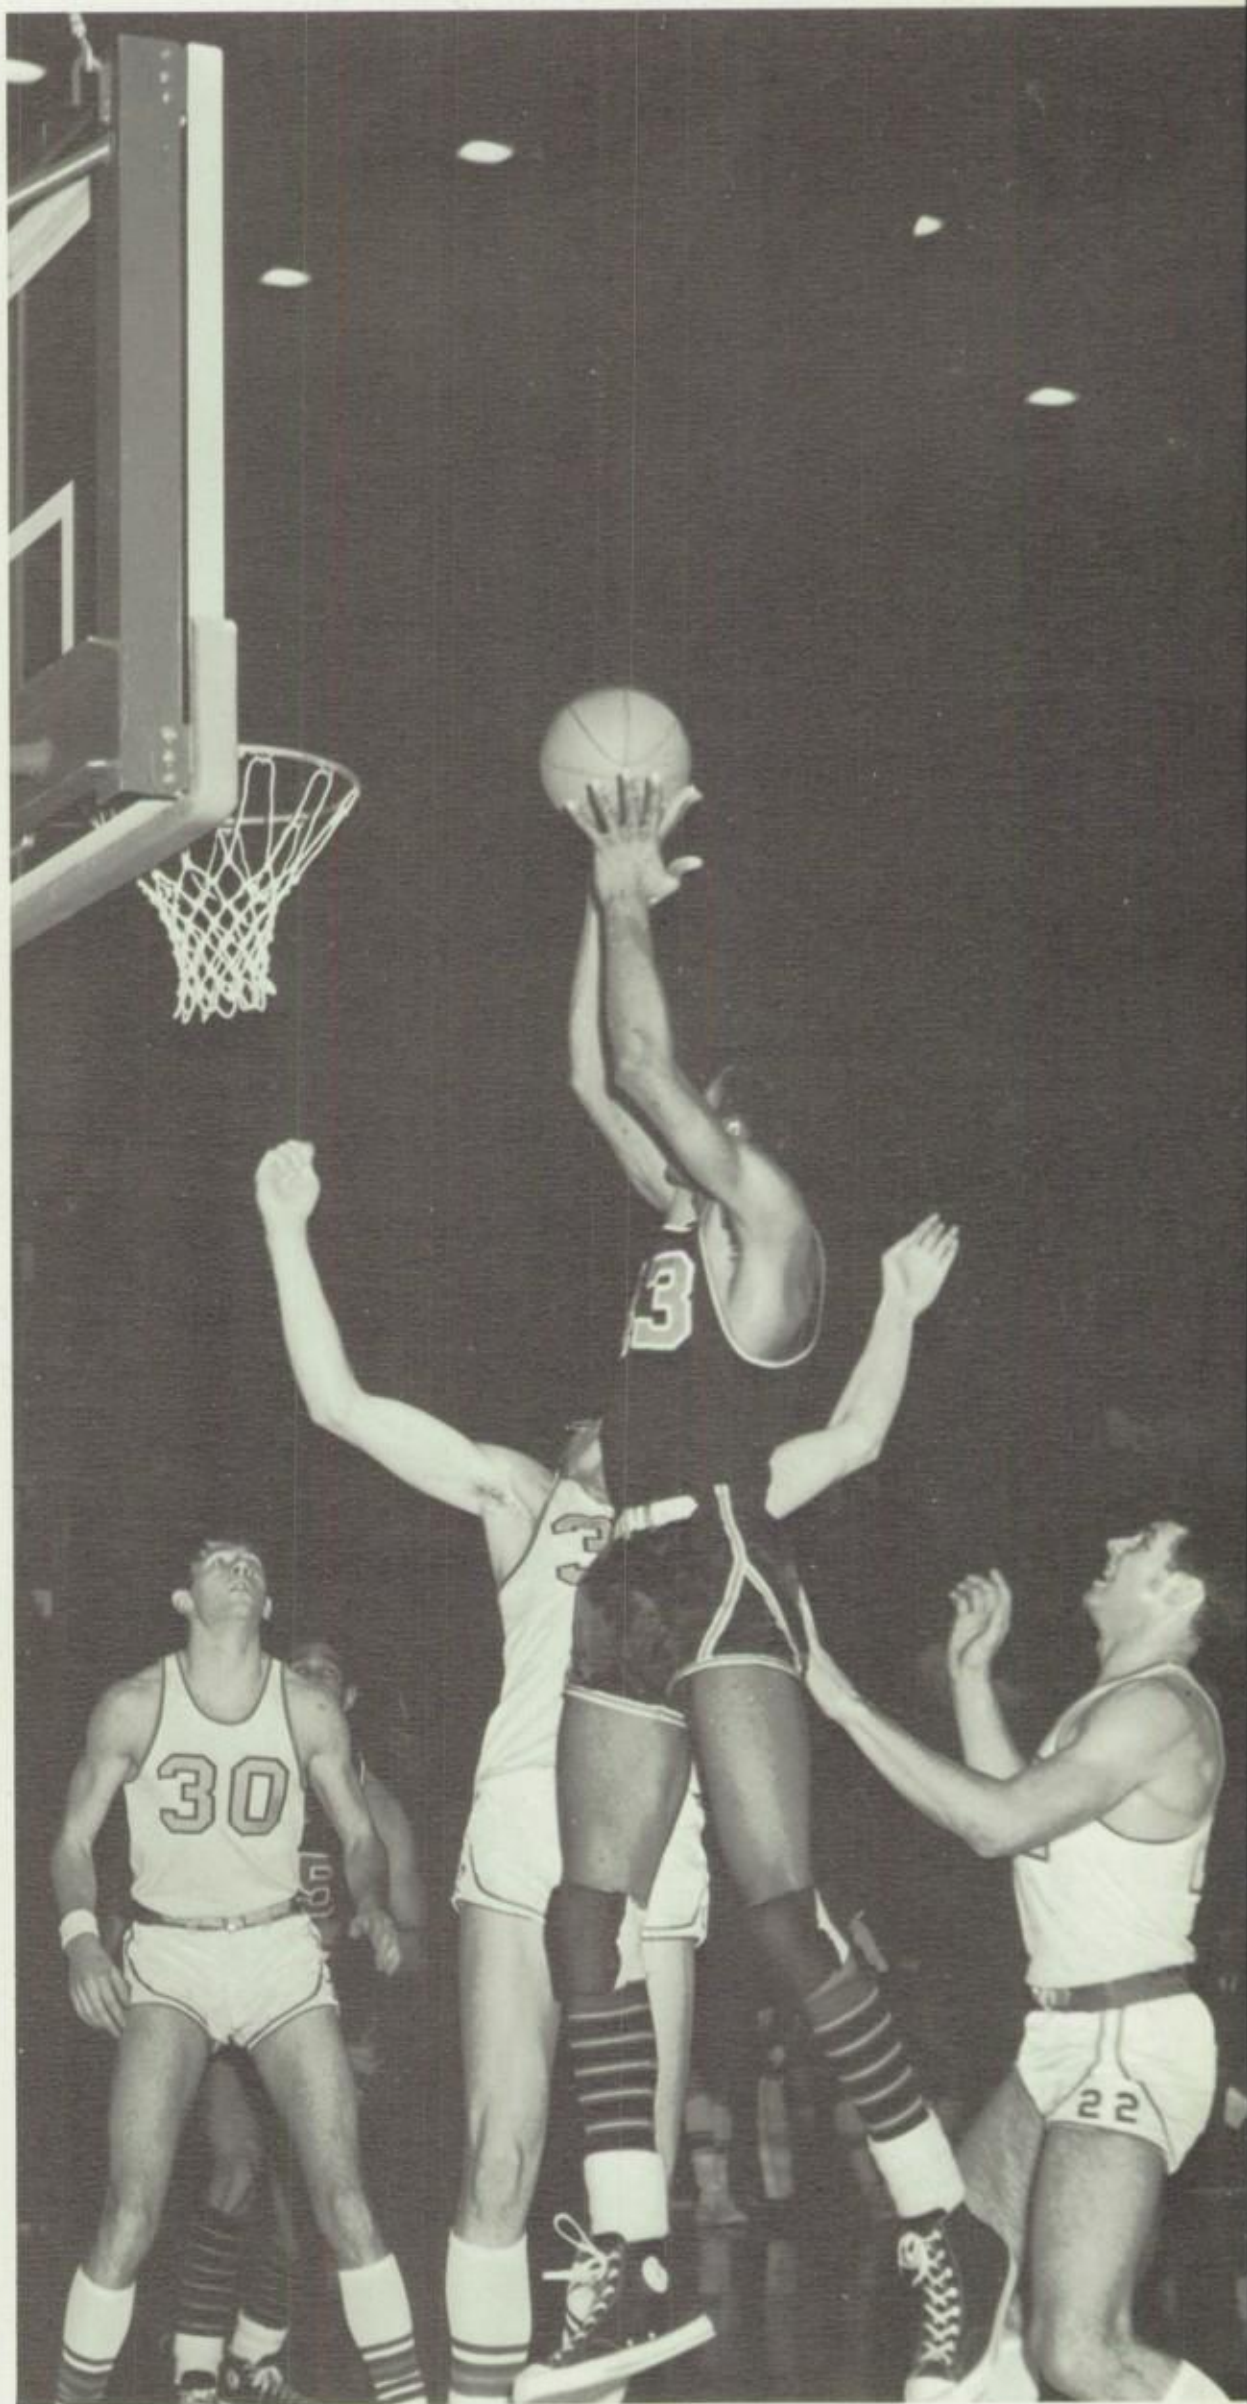

MARIEMONT TOPPLED SECOND-SEEDED TIGERS

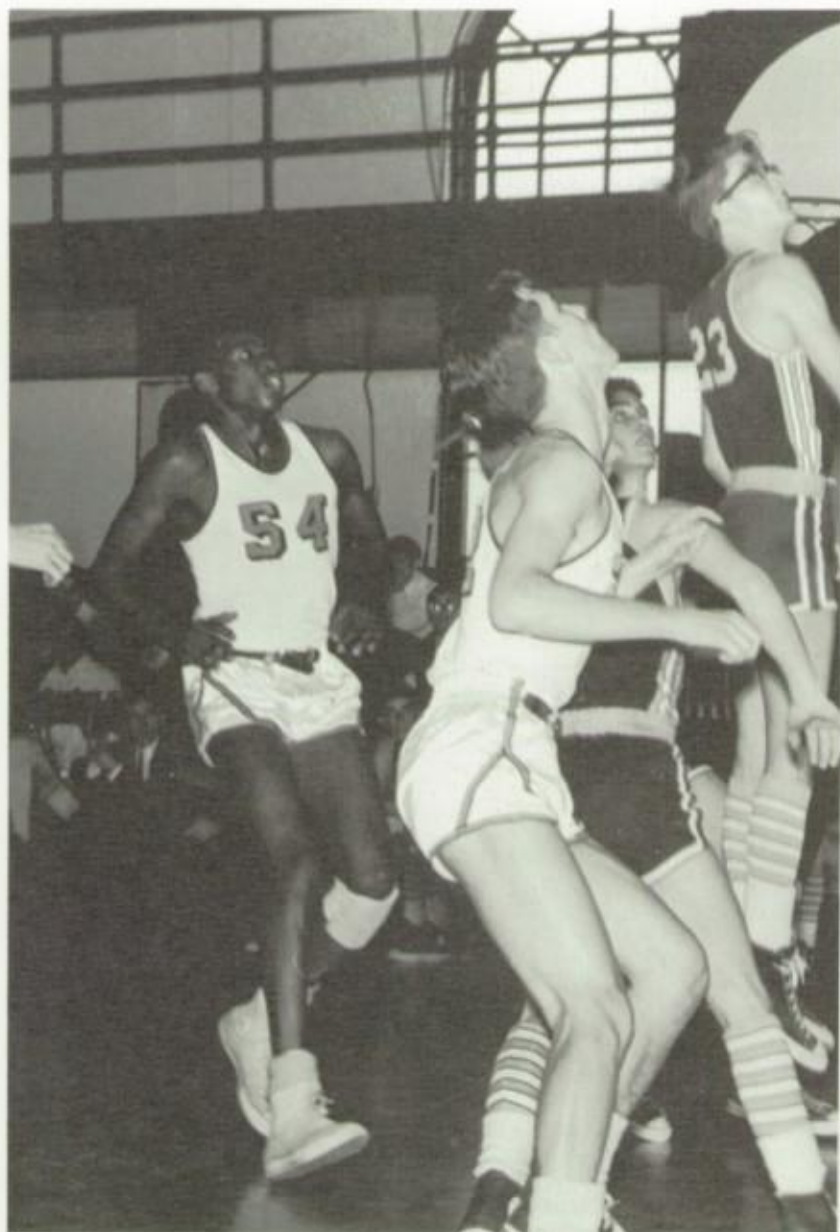

Fast on the move, varsity guard Costello Moore added "two" from twenty feet as he led the Tigers with eighteen points.

Cager Quintet

Withrow's five were seeded second only to Elder at the beginning of the district tournament. Then Coach Hugheey was hospitalized and the tide was turned. In their opening game the Tiger netmen were faced by PHSL rival Aiken. Having defeated Aiken twice in the PHSL competition, the cager quintet played an uninspired game. The team came through, however, as the 51—40 victors to pit them against well-rounded Mariemont. The Warriors unleashed all of their weapons as they ended the Bengals' long ten-game winning streak and sent the hoopmen to the showers with a 70—61 upset.

Hawk and Walton maneuvered for position to get the rebound.

Defensive Demons

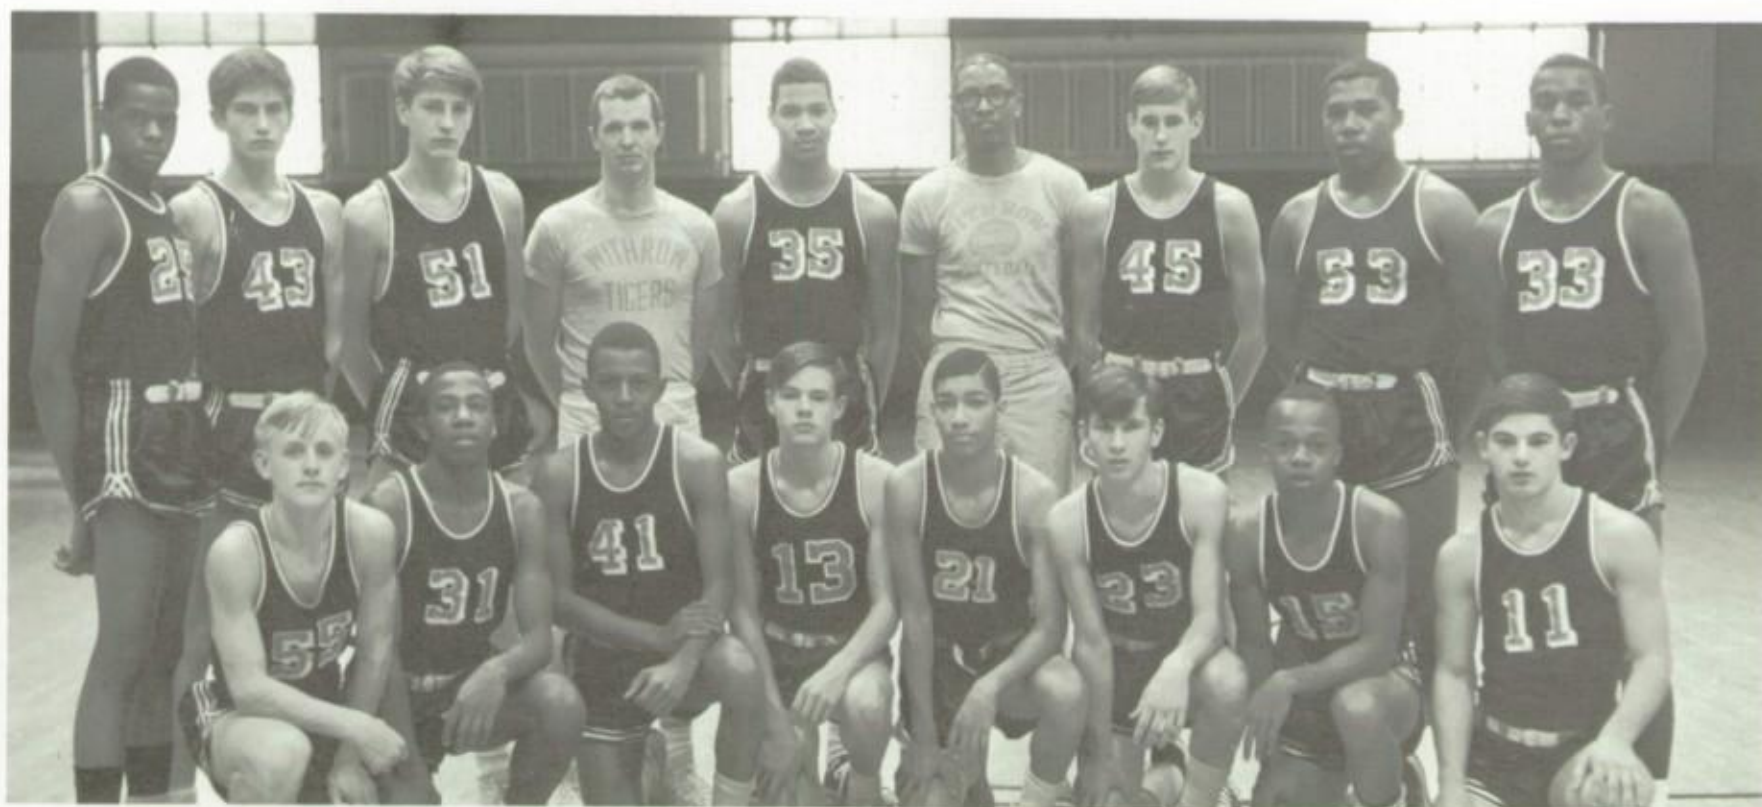

Reserve coach John Bryant's squad may have lacked offensive scoring, but this deficiency was balanced by a remarkable defensive effort. The Tigers' defense held opponents to a 45.4 point average en route to a 14 and 4 record. The reserve hardcourtmen faced many formidable foes in league play, losing twice by a total of only five points to clinch a co-championship with Taft.

BASEBALL

Brave blooming crocuses were an omen of spring as was the call to launch baseball practice. Mr. Thomas Chambers, a veteran coach of one year, enlisted his men in March to prepare for the rugged road to the top. A knack for being a "Casey at the Bat" and being a good-grade-getter was a prerequisite for obtaining a uniform. Another dimension was a public address system which allowed the spectators to be immediately informed of the play by play. Baseball, an energetic game for both the spectator and participant.

GOLFERS CHIP IN WITH THIRD PLACE

Golf Team

Keeping in swing with the times, Coach Merritt's team drove to a hard-won third place in league competition. Captain Bill Hawkins led the charge as the squad followed through smoothly to gain a third place in the district tournament.

'67 Captain Rocky Myers demonstrates his grip to junior John Apgar.

Cindermen

Coach Tirrel Burton's career as the head coach of Withrow's track team ended victoriously. Bengalian cindermen captured first place in the district PHSL competition. Returning Tiger trackmen brought experience to next year's team under new head coach James Barrett.

James Scott developed form through practice.

Clarence McElroy lengthened his stride in mid-season workouts.

A strenuous warm-up was a vital part of the track team's maneuvers.

P. Holzman, D. Mehl, C. Wilder, R. Lague, B. Walters, M. Fluharty, Coach Mather.

Defending Champions

With the winning of the Worthington Cup, a circulating award for the top tennis team. Withrow's Racketeers placed first in the PHSL. Predictions for a victorious '67 was forseen by Coach David Mather with the return of six Bengal courtmen.

Confidently, Coach Mather watched the first-place Tigers perform.

GIRLS'
ATHLETICS

G.A.A. Utilized Nets to Diamonds.

G.A.A., one of the largest and best supported clubs at Withrow, started the season with hockey, supervised by Miss Leslie. When fall was over, indoor sports consisted of volleyball and basketball, led by Mrs. Connolly and Miss Dorsey. Along with the budding of spring came a long line of girls sporting softballs and bats, accompanied by Miss Leslie.

This forward had more than enough opponents trying to block her shot.

A taut bow and direct aim were sure to score points on the archery range.

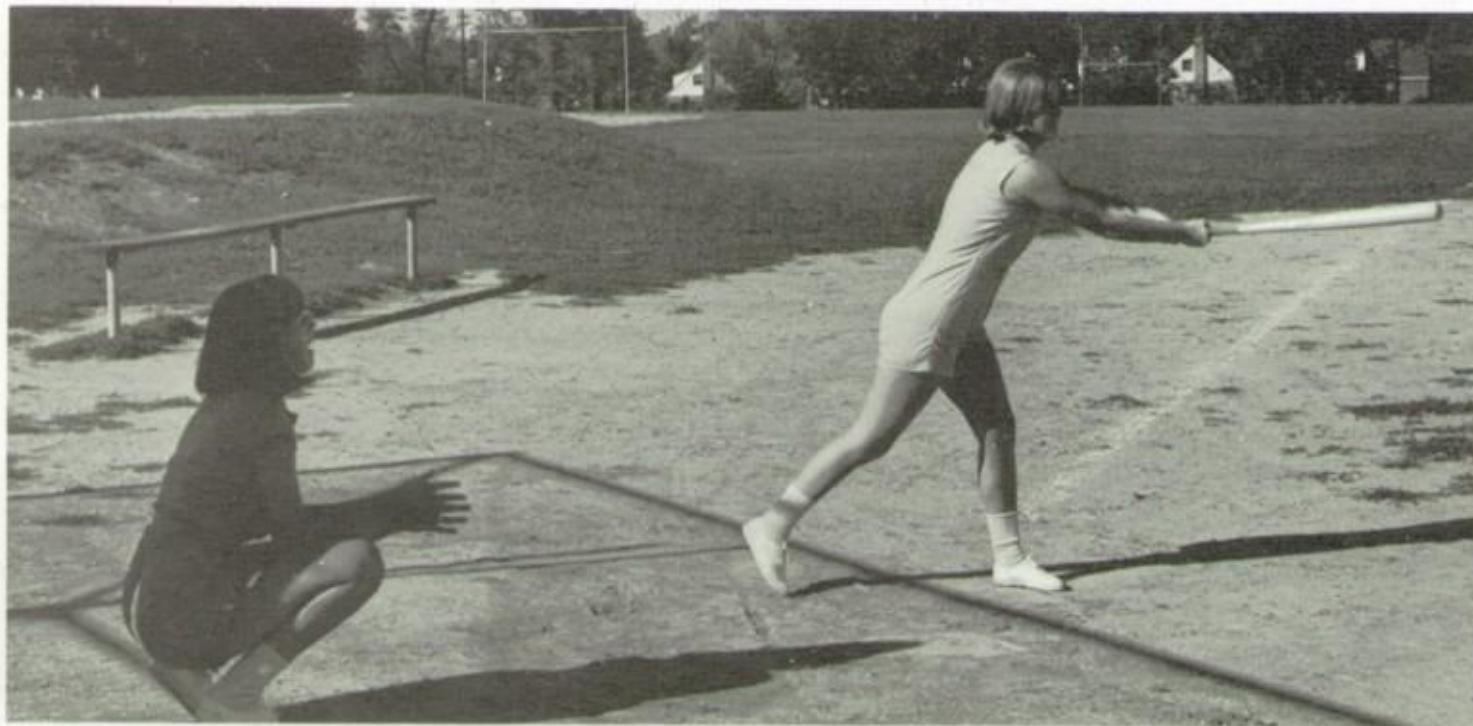

Marsha Replogle and Selena Williams spired toward a jump shot.

GIRLS' SPORTS BUILD AGILITY

Jumper

Twenty pull-ups and many basketball throws, among other tests, helped to determine whether a girl would be placed in a higher or lower level of gym class. Miss Karen Nolte was additional aid in administering the skill tests. Integrated with the new bowling equipment were the tennis, hockey and archery facilities.

"And now the air is shattered by the force of Debi's blow, but there was no joy at Withrow—mighty Deb struck out."

Stamina and a firm grip are needed to swing on the rings.

At right, Janie Rutherford aimed for five chin-ups.

Paula Bess leaps toward a volley just within grasp of her fingertips.

Becky Renshaw—V.P.

Beverly Brown—Rec. Secy.

Sally Sutton—Treas.

Shirley McFall—Corr. Secy.

G.A.A. CO-ORDINATORS

Sports Leaders

Combined efforts of officers, managers, and advisers sustained Withrow's largest organization, G.A.A. In order to present a $400 scholarship to an active G.A.A.'er and obtain money to support G.A.A., the girls sponsored their annual Turnabout Dance and a booth at Tigertown Twirl and sold stuffed animals. Play days provided competition for girls active in softball, volleyball, and hockey, while Dolphins joined in swim meets.

Suzy Gwinner—Pres.

Debbie Hutton—Jr. High Adviser

Merry Stenburg—Hist.

GAA SPOTLIGHTS JUNIOR HIGH ACTIVITIES AND DOLPHIN CLUB

Practice Developed Girls' Skills

GAA provided seventh and eighth graders with the curricula of Junior High GAA and Dolphin Club. Each girl earned points for athletic letters awarded at the Spring banquet, which were based on the number of games or swimming workouts that she attended or in which she participated. While any interested seventh or eighth grade girl could join GAA, Dolphin Club had a limited membership according to the graded ability that every girl displayed while taking placement tests in the girls' swimming pool.

ROW 1—D. Collins, D. Collins, L. Harper, K. Gratsch, W. Ferguson, L. Usher, S. Martin, A. Firestone.

GAA GIRLS TEAM UP TO BE LEADERS OF THE FUTURE

ROW 1—K. Haught, K. Hopkins, S. Childress, S. Schaeffer, ROW 2—M. Clapp, P. DuBois, C. Parker, (middle), L. Simpson, V. Durbin.

Goals Attained

Junior Leaders and Cheerleading were the activities based on ninth grade group and individual participations. Junior Leaders teamed up to help referee the GAA games for the seventh and eighth graders earning points for letters. Cheerleading was the sole sport in the division that was organized with tryouts. The Junior Leaders donated after-school time on game nights, while Miss Robinson supervised cheerleading practices on Monday nights.

ROW 1—S. Martin, P. Warren, C. Parker, L. Simpson, S. Kelsch, V. Durbin, M. Vaughan, M. Clapp, S. Wells, K. Hopkins. ROW 2—W. Naegel, S. Hunt, J. Vaughan, K. Haught, D. Reinhardt, D. Cook, K. Chadwell, P. DuBois, S. Henges, V. Foster. ROW 3—M. Frost,

OUR THANKS

The Withrow Annual Staff of 1967 would like to thank the following people for their invaluable contribution to this yearbook:

The Faculty and Administration for their sincere interest in WITHIN THESE WALLS . . .

Mr. Carl Vorpe and Mr. Ronald Wempe of the American Yearbook Company for their help in publishing the Annual . . .

Pogue's Portrait Studio for its fine photographic work . . .

Mr. Larry Apple for the individual underclassmen pictures . . .

The Athletic Department for its cooperation in developing the Sports Section . . .

The Custodial Staff for the time it devoted to the distribution of Annuals . . .

The Business Department for the management of technical affairs . . .

Mrs. Corry, the school treasurer, for her help with the finances . . .

The advisors for their guidance . . .

The students for their support . . .

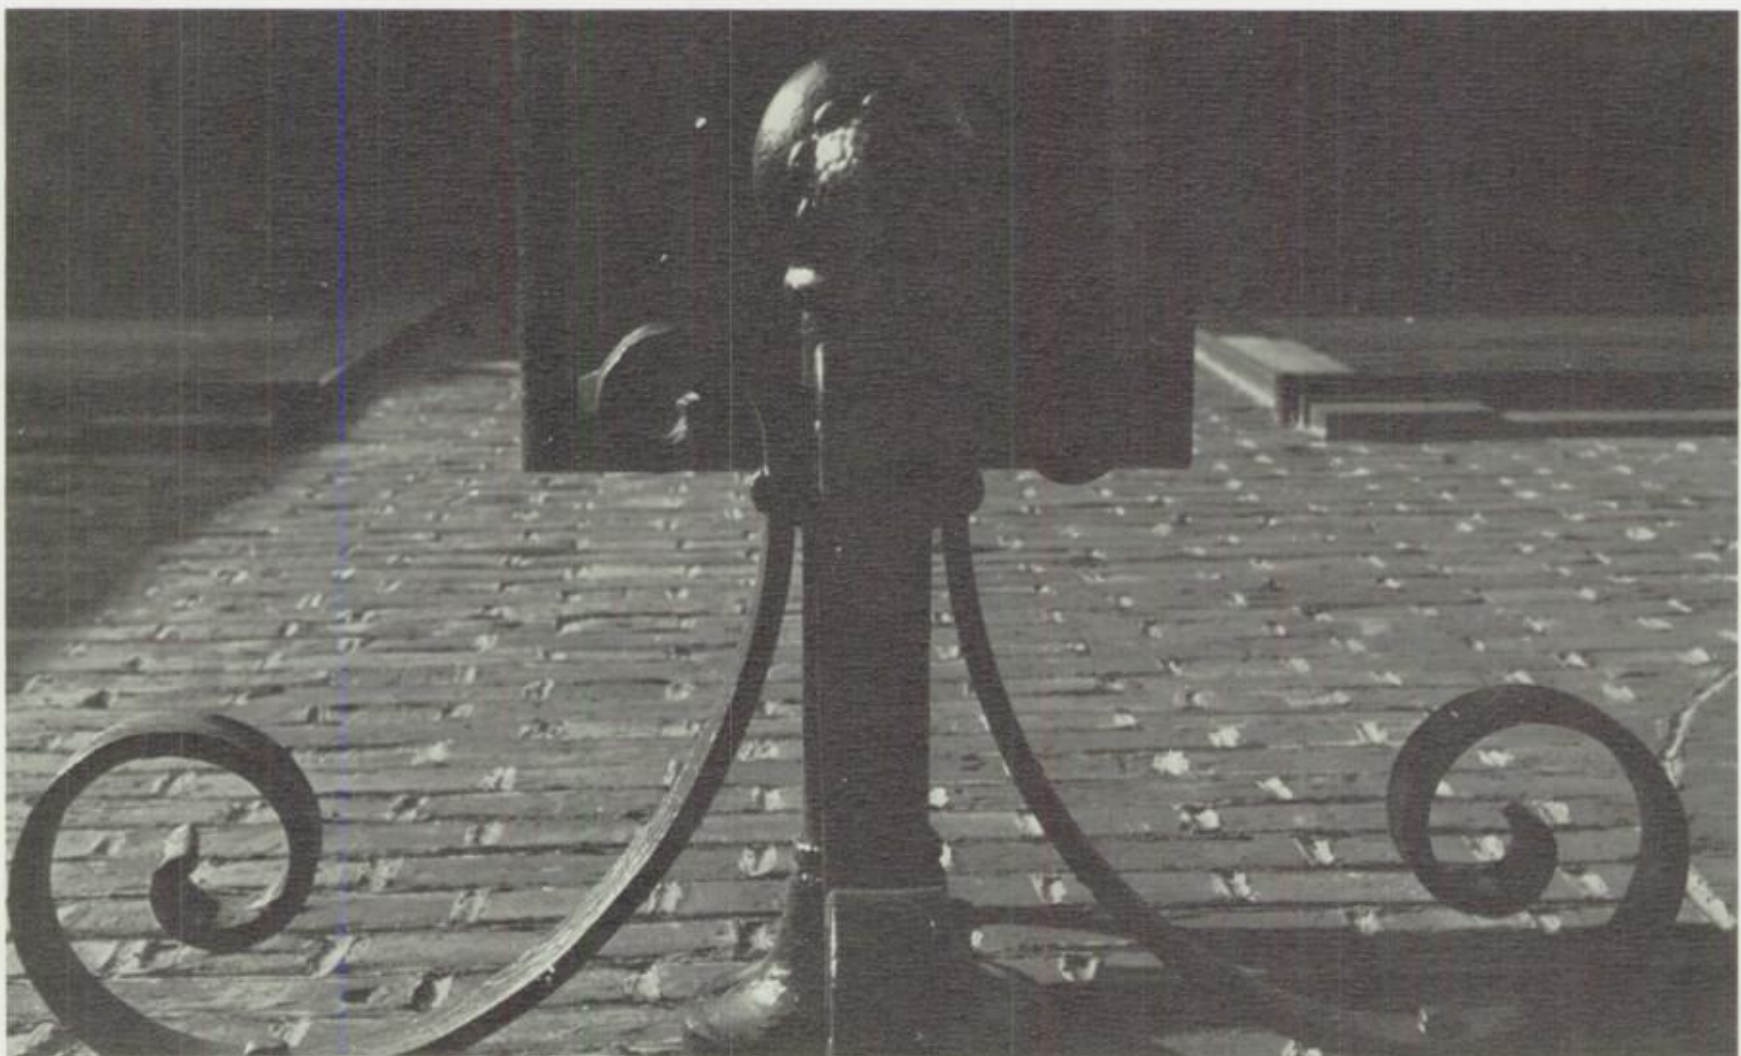

Withrow High School for the unforgettable year we have attempted to portray in WITHIN THESE WALLS.

Autographs

Rounding the bend, they are now ready for the wire!

Bonnie Barnes and Dave Mehl take a break to chat outside.

Cindy Malora, Diane Herbort, and Jetta Crump evaluated Bengalia.

Autographs

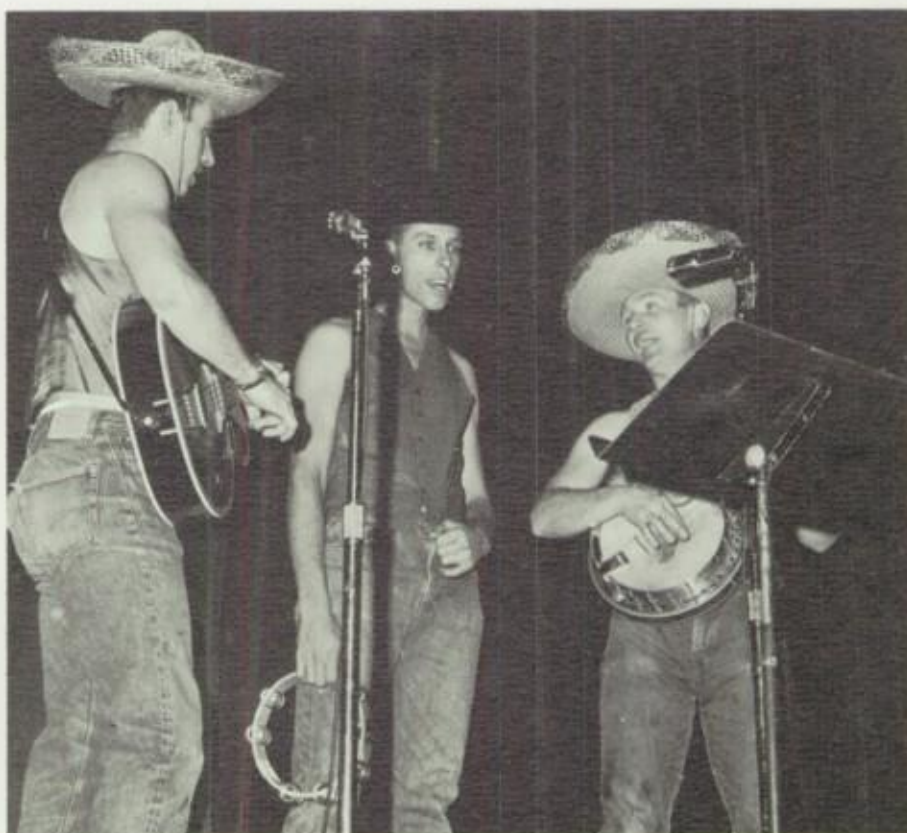

Dracula, Frankenstein and the Phantom have nothing on Mr. Mueller.

Autographs

"Oops! All I wanted was this piece of paper!"

A version of Tijuana Brass.

Lights blazon the entrance to Withrow's doors. In the dimness of night all is serene and still, anticipating the next day's turbulent rush WITHIN THESE WALLS.
